

DAY EXONERATED BY CORONER'S JURY

HOLD OKLAHOMA MAN WAS JUSTIFIED IN THE KILLING OF BECK

Recommend That No Charges be Preferred Against Him—Mr. and Mrs. Day Tell Their Story of Tragedy—Both Show Deep Emotion—Son of Slain Man at Inquest

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 8.—Holding that Jean P. Day, prominent attorney and oil man was justified in the killing of Lieutenant Colonel P. W. Beck at the Day home early last Tuesday, a coroner's jury returned a verdict tonight recommending that no charges be preferred against Da.

The crowded court room was silent as it heard the verdict read. After it had been read Mr. and Mrs. Day arose. Mr. Day shook hands with Coroner McWilliams, and the two walked from the room without a word.

The verdict follows:

"We, the coroner's jury, duly sworn and empanelled to inquire into the cause of the death of Paul Ward Beck, after hearing evidence introduced before us from witnesses and after viewing the body of Paul Ward Beck, do upon our oath find and report:

"That Paul Ward Beck came to his death at the hands of Jean P. Day and from the evidence submitted to us conclude that Jean P. Day was justified in defending his wife and himself even to the unfortunate result in the death of Paul Ward Beck, and we therefore recommend and advise that no charges be filed or prosecution instituted against Jean P. Day."

GOVERNMENT IS GOING TO TAKE STOCK OF BUREAU

Part Where Changes Were Made Ordered Closed for Inventory

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Part of the bureau of engraving and printing, which was re-organized last week under an executive order by President Harding removing James L. Wilmetts its director and other high officials was ordered closed tonight by Secretary Mellon for an inventory of the stock valued at many millions of dollars.

Mr. Mellon's order applied only to the divisions of the bureau which handles the paper used in making bank notes, stamps and government securities, it being explained that a quicker and more accurate check of the paper stock could be made by a temporary shutdown of all paper work. About 1,500 employees of the bureau force of 6,000 would indirectly be affected by the order of closure.

Mr. Mellon said about six hundred will be used as counters and all others having annual leave to their credit will be given the benefit of it.

According to Assistant Secretary in charge of the bureau the inventory is to be taken as a check of the stock on hand in the plant against the books in much the same fashion that stock is taken by a manufacturer for the year. The check will be begun tomorrow by a committee representing all the departments such as the treasury, federal reserve board and postoffice departments which have work done at the plant and a staff of justice department agents assigned to Louis A. Hill the new director, by Attorney General Clegg.

Mr. Wardsworth said he expected the count to be completed within a week.

Announcement of the closing brought into prominence again rumors that have circulated among some department employees to the effect that investigation of the engraving bureau would disclose serious shortages in the stock and widespread duplications of liberty bonds and other government securities. High treasury officials declared there was no indication of a shortage in the stock of the bureau, altho there had been some duplication of the numbers of government bonds due to faulty machinery.

These duplications, it was stated, caused no loss to the government.

FINALLY AGREE ON VALUATION IN TARIFF MEASURE

Now Practically Completed and to be Presented Soon

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Foreign valuation as the underlying principle of the so called permanent tariff bill finally was agreed upon tonight by Republican members of the senate finance committee. The vote was seven to three, but how the committee members divided on the ballot was withheld.

With the settlement of the valuation question the majority practically completed the measure and it was stated that it would be presented to the senate either on Tuesday or Wednesday after Democratic committee members have been given opportunity to cast their votes on the bill. The majority report also has yet to be drawn up.

The valuation plan includes several bolstering provisions designed to take care of unusual situations growing out of present world conditions and, more particularly the marked depreciation of currencies in foreign countries. These provisions are in line with recommendations made to congress by president Harding in his first annual message last December.

Where investigation established the fact that conditions existed in foreign countries that enabled those countries to produce goods and sell them in the United States at prices after payment of duty below the cost and producing and marketing similar goods in this country the president would be given authority to increase any rate of duty by fifty percent of the figure fixed in the bill.

Gives President Authority.

Should investigation develop that such percentage of increase on the foreign valuation principle was too small to protect American industry the president would have authority to transfer foreign valuation to the American wholesale selling price of the imported goods and then to increase or decrease by 50 percent the rates fixed in the bill.

The president also would have the right to change the classifications fixed in the bill, that is to remove items from the free list to the dutiable list.

Senator Snoot, who drew the original bolstering provisions said he did not think it would ever be necessary for that power to be exercised.

Under another provision he said where it was established that foreign countries had associations formed to control the prices of commodities in the United States the president would have authority to prevent the landing of imports from such countries until the discrimination against American products—practiced by such associations was removed.

The depreciated currency provision of the original foreign valuation amendment was stricken out by the majority as it was thought that the authority given the president to change rates, valuation and classification would meet any situation that might arise growing out of depreciation in currencies abroad.

Senate committee Republicans look for a long fight over the bill but they are hopeful that it can be put through the senate within sixty days.

Indications now are that the principal fights will be over wool, cotton, sugar, dyes, lumber and hides and leather.

Condensed Telegraphic News

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 8.—Police believe they have one of the men having knowledge of the killing of William Parlon, arrested last night. Parlon salesman for a Boston concern, was shot on Tuesday night after a call on a girl known as Miss Long, later found to be Zandi's wife. First theory of the police was Parlon was the victim of holdup men.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 8.—Search of a shabby individual who applied at a police station, last night for a place to sleep revealed $15,000 in Liberty bonds and industrial bonds and war savings certificates. This man is being held while investigation is under way of his story that he found them.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., April 8.—Samuel S. Cohen, sentenced to five years imprisonment in 1920 illegally possessing stolen property is due to arrive at the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, to day to begin serving his term. He surrendered yesterday and started for the prison last night. Cohen was at liberty under a stay of execution by President Harding which expired yesterday.

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., April 8.—Eley Withrow, 15 years old was shot and killed and his brother Otis seriously wounded today. The shooting is said to have been done by George Nari, 18, and to have been the outgrowth of a feud between the Withrow and Nari families, residing on adjoining farms. The Withrow boys were driving past the Nari farm when fired upon, it is alleged.

FAILURE TO JOIN LEAGUE IS CAUSE OF DEPRESSION

This is What James M. Cox Tells Audience at New York

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 8.—Directly attributing our present day "business adversity" to the failure of the United States to join the league of nations, former Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, in an address tonight urged a continuation of the original plan to have this country join the league.

His address was made before the national Democratic Club and was one of his few public utterances since his campaign as a Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1920.

Asserting that as one surveys conditions at Washington, he finds little ground for hope of a stable prosperity, Mr. Cox declared that "the average person believes there is something radically wrong in Washington and that it consists of a lack of leadership. There is no captain of the ship."

Declaring that the Republican administration in its attitude toward international cooperation is permitting "this Republic to remain in the world view a selfish greedy people, strapping to money bags and unaffected by the distress of others," Mr. Cox said, "these intolerable conditions cannot endure."

"As we foregather tonight as disciples of the creed of Jefferson, Jackson and Wilson, let us resolve to hold the line. No great cause was ever won in a single battle. Our principles are right and they must and will prevail."

INDIANAPOLIS MEN ARE INDICTED

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 8.—Indianapolis men arrested last November on suspicion of having robbed a mail train near Paxton, Ill., were indicted in the federal grand jury reported handed Federal Judge A. B. Anderson today on charges of violating the prohibition law.

In resisting removal to Illinois for a hearing on the train robbery charge the men said they had gone to Clinton, Ind., on the night of the robbery to obtain liquor.

The men indicted were, Vernon Jones and Garrett Osborne, negroes, and James P. Hill, Joseph Burnett and Frank Wolf. Investigation of motor thefts resulted in the return of 23 indictments, one naming 12 defendants who were accused of belonging to a gang engaged in transporting automobiles to the south from Chicago.

DIES FROM WOUNDS INFLICTED BY DAUGHTER

ST. LOUIS, April 8.—George L. Ritchie, 43, a butcher, died this afternoon from bullet wounds inflicted yesterday by his daughter, Maude, 18, a telephone operator, who asserted he was abusing Mrs. Ritchie.

FEDERAL TROOPS WILL NOT BE USED IN COAL STRIKE

Only Failure of State Agencies Will Cause Troops to be Sent

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The administration's determination not to use federal troops in the coal strike unless all state agencies fail in preserving order was set forth clearly today after a conference between President Harding and Secretary Weeks.

A request for troops from Governor McMechen of New Mexico was denied.

The decision left the house labor committee as the only federal agency attempting to deal with the strike and altho it continued its hearings there was no indication that the mass of testimony taken would lead to action in the near future. Today's contribution to the committee record was a statement by Phil H. Penna, a former miner's union official and now an operator blaming the present crisis on failure of the men to keep their contracts. As a public announcement of the administration's hands off policy so far as use of federal troops are concerned Secretary Weeks made public a telegram to Governor McMechen replying to an appeal for help.

"Unless disorder develops to a point where state authorities are unable to preserve order," said the message, "federal troops cannot be used in connection with the coal strike."

Waiting Developments.

Despite this attitude it is known that the administration is watching developments in the strike closely and will not bet unprepared should a situation arise which in the president's opinion warrants war department interference. The department of justice also is keeping advised of conditions.

A prediction that the strike soon will collapse without pressure from the government or any other outside agency was made before the house committee by Mr. Penna who declared the rank and file of the Union would not long continue to support their leaders under present conditions. He asserted the union officials had pursued a course which had made the contract with the organization valueless.

Once president of the United Mine Workers and now secretary of the Indiana Coal Operators' association, Mr. Penna told the committee he had seen and understood both sides of the picture. The Union in former days, he said, kept their word but under present leadership they did not hesitate to break contracts. In the bituminous fields, the strike came, he asserted, "not because the operators would not meet the miners, but because of some operators would not meet the union in the group the union demands."

SECRETARY DENBY PUTS THE P. D. Q. ON THE N. O. F. SATURDAY

All Wireless Stations are Closed to Political Speeches

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 8.—"N. O. F. is dead politically," Secretary Denby closed N. O. F., the naval wireless station at Anacostia—and all other radio stations against political speech making.

Grounded innumerable campaign speeches by members of congress planning to follow the innovation of Senators Lodge of Massachusetts, New, of Indiana, and others who have been addressing constituents at home by radio phone, thru the naval stations.

It also solved Secretary Denby's problem of whether or not the stations should become adjuncts of the coming political campaign and sent shills of regret thru the receivers of the myriad of politicians who were making connections for radiophone spell-binding.

A few of the disappointed candidates said that anyway they were not so sure they wanted an ether mixture of their utterances with dival wave lengths from a jazz orchestra, a woman soprano, weather reports and the prices of cheese and livestock. The political meter it was said, would not harmonize well with market and weather reports and musical programs.

Mr. Denby's "N. O. F. is out P. D. Q." was described by the navy department as a temporary order to be effective until some comprehensive plan of control should be devised.

WORKMEN FORCED TO LEAVE BEARDSTOWN LEVEE LAST NIGHT

High Wind Caused Waves to Wash Over the Levee—Report Was Started That the Levee Had Given Way Under Pressure of Waves—City Takes Flood Philosophically

NAPLES, April 8.—(Special to The Journal.)—The levee here broke at an early hour this morning and the entire south part of the town is covered with water. The river is still rising and further damage is feared before the crest of the flood is reached.

BULLETIN

BEARDSTOWN, Ill., April 8.—Workmen abandoned Beardstown's west end levee tonight when high winds from the south driving another heavy rain whipped the swollen Illinois river into waves which washed over the levee. The storm abated at 10 o'clock with the embankment still withstanding the rush of the swollen stream.

BULLETIN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 8.—Reports here that Beardstown levee had broken during a heavy storm tonight were declared by Adjutant General Carlos Black to be erroneous following receipt of a message from Colonel S. O. Tripp, who was sent to Beardstown today.

"I talked with Colonel Tripp shortly after 10 o'clock and the levee was still holding," the adjutant general said.

When workmen abandoned the levee during the storm tonight the report spread thru Beardstown that the embankment had given away. Newspapers and the Illinois Bell Telephone Company received the erroneous report from their representatives at the flooded city.

People Expect Floods.

BEARDSTOWN, Ill., April 8.—Taking its flood philosophically as something to be expected every spring, "but just a little worse than usual," Beardstown was speculating tonight on the prospects of a break in the city's west levee.

Momentarily expecting the levee to yield to the swollen Illinois river during the last twenty-four hours, city officials tonight grew hopeful and expressed the belief that the embankment would hold unless the river is whipped by high winds.

Several blocks of the city near the river were under two and three feet of water and a break in the levee would extend the flood over about twenty blocks, Mayor Wesley Perry said tonight.

"A break in the levee would not make conditions much worse except flood the lower floors of more houses," the mayor said.

"Fifty families in the lower quarter of the city have been moved to higher ground and everyone is safe if the worst comes."

Trains were still operated in and out of Beardstown today. The railroads enter the eastern section of the city which is on high ground.

Scores of men were still fighting to save the levee from a break tonight. Several times during the day small breaks started but with each threat men threw their weight against the weak spots and acted as props until the points were reinforced.

The river was slowly rising tonight but even this did not disturb the equanimity of Beardstown. Profiting by the flood, photographers have taken many pictures in the affected section of the city and labelling them "our town has gone wet again," are selling them as souvenirs.

"This is Beardstown's annual bath," said one citizen. "Come back for our fish fries and watermelon parties next summer."

COLLEGE MEN WILL FIND BEST FIELD IN RAILROADING

Vandalia Head Says They Have Made Fine Showing

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 8.—The world is full of stories of railroad men who worked their way up without educational advantages but the world does not realize that no field offers greater advantages to the collegian than railroading and that in no field have collegians made a better showing. Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania System said tonight in a statement.

The statement was in reply to questions which had been addressed to Mr. Rea as to whether a college education helped a man and whether railroading advantages for the college graduate.

"My answer is—unqualified," "Yes," said Mr. Rea. "Whatever may be said of those who have attained important and responsible positions in the past by having that practical education which comes from hard work in the day and from that self-denial which places education above recreation thru intense study at nights and in the holiday season, yet there can be no doubt now of the advantage to the young man who begins his work with an intensively trained mind.

In the technical branches of railroading as well as mining and some of the productive industries we have reached the point where the preliminary training of a college or a university course is a necessity for the young man who aims at a place in the executive forces.

"To a young man of ability about to graduate from college and confronted with a choice of professions, I would say that railroading offers a more certain career, than most, and railroading which sweeps from West Texas east into Oklahoma toward Arkansas early today. Tonight's tally of the dead and injured may be increased, as reports from some of the stricken towns are meager, officials said.

EXPERIMENTAL SIX CENT STREET CAR FARE

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 8.—A temporary experimental street car fare of six cents was ordered today by the Illinois Commerce Commission for Chicago. There will be no charge for transfers and children under 12 will ride for three cents each.

The new fare is to become effective May 1 and will remain in effect until Jan. 1, 1923 at which time the commission will consider the results of the experiment and make a new decision either upholding the six cent fare or giving the company relief.

To accomplish the cut in fares, the commission ruled that the company hereafter shall be entitled to only five percent return on the investment as estimated by the previous commission. At present the company is receiving six percent.

They are talking about cutting out the word "obey" from the marriage ceremony but it makes little difference, for nobody practices the promise.

Cities along the rivers are likely to boast about the superiority of their location, because of the advantages of water transportation. Just now it is quite a satisfactory thing to be a resident of an inland town.

Applications filed for teachers' certificates in a number of Illinois cities indicate that the scarcity which prevailed last year and the year before is now quite a thing of the past. This change should not result in lower salaries for teachers, but instead afford boards of education the opportunity of picking the best for this particular important work of education.

Many are the severe indictments of Bolshevism and the most pointed of all has come from Emma Goldman, anarchist. She says that in two years' residence in Russia she heard only once the laughter of a child.

If you want to try a little optimism on the miserable weather that has dominated the past two weeks, take a look at Central Park and note its beautiful appearance. This continued downpour has done wonders for the grass and shrubbery there.

Let us hope that the very peaceful board of education election Saturday was just a forerunner of Tuesday's primary. One thing is certain that no matter how big the vote or how great the interest shown, it will be a very tame affair by comparison with election day in Sangamon county.

Capital and labor, if they only knew it, are the Siamese twins of civilization, and each will last just about as long as the other.

THE DESIRABLE TOURIST.

Everything is coming the American tourist's way. Everybody is bidding for him. He is sought abroad more, than ever, because Europe has more need of his money. Foreign shipping lines are making their rates more attractive because they have plentiful carrying capacity and little patronage. The United States Shipping Board is doing the same thing, for the same reason of self-preservation. The whole tendency is to draw American travelers abroad this year as they have not been drawn since the bountiful, easy years before the war.

Wherefore American sections and interests that cater to the native tourist trade are worried. The gospel of "see America first" worked well enough while Europe was virtually barred to Americans. Now, the West fears, Americans with money for traveling may be lured away.

A Denver newspaper is therefore urging that it is "time to placard the East with the glories of the West," in order to stem the tide. And there is good reason for it.

The American West is more worth seeing than ever, and that can hardly be said of Europe just now. The East finds in the West a warmth of welcome of which no foreign land is capable. American railroad rates are lower than they have been for years. Then there is the ever-ready automobile, which is rapidly revolutionizing travel and which, as the same Denver paper remarks, may be "the salvation of the West, the national park region, as against the competition of Europe and Asia." For every family that can afford to go abroad by railroad and steamship, a dozen can afford to travel at home by motor.

JACKSONVILLE'S WAY.

(The Bloomington Pantagraph.) Bloomington recently decided on having a woman police officer to regulate the dancing in public places.

In Jacksonville they don't do things that way. Jacksonville has a dance hall on the second floor of a public garage. Mayor Crabtree is not ashamed to take out-of-town visitors to the place to look on the kind of dances they have there. The manager is himself a city official, and one who realizes his responsibility. In the summer time he runs a public park where there are public dances. He is a big fellow six feet tall and broad of shoulder. He looks as if he could handle any roughneck who invades his dance hall, and if occasion demands he grabbed 'em by the scruff of the neck and throws 'em out.

He recently said to a visitor: "I watch these people and you don't see any cheek to cheek stuff here. Any couple who starts any jungle frolic, gets a polite invitation to desist, and they do it. I have been running dances for 20 years, and I think I know how."

Bloomington has a way of regulating public dances. So has Jacksonville.

BANKS AND BUSINESS.

(Chicago Journal of Commerce.) Mayor Hylan of New York shores the widespread prejudice of many people against banks and bankers and would destroy their influence which, he believes, or professes to believe, subversive of the welfare of the nation. Banks represent the power of money, capital, property, and that power is an evil thing, Hylan holds.

Just how he would curb it does not appear. Property has always been influential ever since its rights were established in our civilization. It is a solid strength all men seek—something that serves those who own it. Banks deal in money, and profit by the interest paid for its use. It is as reasonable and just to pay interest for the use of another person's money as it is to pay rent for the use of another person's farm or building.

Certain it is that the banks are a business utility of extraordinary importance to modern business. Without them the commercial genius of the age would be crippled and restricted beyond computation. They do more to foster sound business principles and promote prosperity thru industry and proper checks and balance than any agency in existence except righteous government. There can be no doubt of this. Wholesale attacks on them are really attacks on credit and the entire modern system of business which has multiplied the comforts and pleasures of life and enormously increased the general welfare of mankind in every direction. Christ, the founder of our present social order, never condemned wealth or property as such. We may be sure the banks have a legitimate role in the progress of the race, as property itself, most certainly has.

Smoke Illinois Giants. WOODEN LEG LEAKS BRINGS MISFORTUNE SARTANSBURG, S. C., April 8.—The use of adversity proved anything but sweet today for Alexander Bellenger, a one-legged Spartanburg negro. When a faint muffled "splash, splash" was heard to accompany him as he hobbled down Main street, a policeman took him in.

The cache in his wooden leg was found to contain a pint of liquor. The judge imposed a fine of $100 for transporting intoxicants.

Social Events

Dance at Illinois College

One of the informal student dances held every month at Illinois College was given last evening in the college gymnasium. There were about forty couples present and the hours were spent in dancing. Music was furnished by Dunlap's orchestra. A number of members of the faculty were present as chaperones.

Hostess to Sewing Club

Miss Eva Williams was the hostess to the members of her club Friday evening at her home on Webster avenue. About twelve young women were present and the hours were delightfully spent with sewing and conversation. The hostess served attractive refreshments during the evening.

Agora Society Hostess To I. C. Freshman Girls.

The Agora Society of Illinois College gave a charming afternoon tea yesterday at the home of Mrs. G. C. Guthrie on Park street, for the Freshman girls of the college. This was one of a series of spring events being given this spring for the new girls on the hill. The Guthrie home was made attractive with quantities of lovely bright tulips, daffodils and hyacinths and the appointments for the affair made a delightful event.

Afternoon tea was served from three o'clock to five and Mrs. C. H. Rammelkamp had been asked to pour. Miss Adele McQuiston and Mrs. Frank Elliott were special guests of the day, and during the afternoon Mrs. Elliott asked the girls to visit her flower garden, which presents such a lovely appearance at this time of the year. Miss Mabel Rytle is the president of the Agora society and Miss Sylvia Taylor was the chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, which included also Miss Katherine Wingler and Mary Louise Fry.

Freshman Class at I. W. C. Entertains Sophomores.

The Freshman class of Illinois Woman's College were hostesses at an informal dance given last evening for the members of the Sophomore class. The affair was given in the gymnasium and the evening was spent in dancing. Music was furnished by the Illinois College Orchestra and during the evening attractive refreshments were served. Each Freshman girl asked one Sophomore as her special guest and Miss Harriet Whitmer, faculty advisor of the Sophomore class and Miss Mary Anderson, Freshman class advisor, were the special faculty guests.

The gymnasium was decorated for the occasion in the attractive manner in which it was arranged for the Spring Revue. Clever little dance programs in red and white the Freshman class colors were used and the refreshments also carried out this color scheme. Miss Genevieve Wilson, is the president of the Freshman class and Miss Lucile Vick is the sophomore president. Misses Hattie Baughman and Helen Moffitt had charge of the arrangements for last night's affair.

Entertains Class at Grace Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wright entertained the members of the Young Married People's class of Grace church Friday evening at their home on South Prairie St. This was the regular monthly social meeting of the class and an enjoyable evening was spent with games and music. Hubert Littler sang a number of solos as an informal part of the evening's entertainment. The hostess served attractive refreshments at a late hour. There were about thirty young people present.

Camp Fire Holds Market.

The girls of the Oceeca Camp Fire group held a very successful sale and bazaar Saturday at Priest's garage on West State St. There was a large amount of delicious home cooked food for sale and every article was sold. The girls also had some pretty articles of fancy work for sale. Miss Elmore Stoldt was the chairman of the bazaar committee and all the girls in the Camp Fire helped. The girls had some pretty colored Easter eggs for sale and they will take orders for making them all this week. Anyone who wishes to order Easter eggs may call Miss Elmore Stoldt, 1400.

Held Market Here Saturday.

The members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Concord M. P. church held a sale of home cooked foods in the window of Dorwart's market yesterday. The ladies had all kinds of pies, cakes, cookies, breads, salads and other good things for sale. Those who had charge of the market were: Mrs. J. L. Wallace, Mrs. A. C. Bolle, of this city, Mrs. Roy Nickel, Mrs. Howard Hansmeier and Mrs. Otto Nickel.

"Theater Party" at Colonial Inn Last Night.

A delightful "Theater Party" was given last evening at the Colonial Inn when the Senior Class of Illinois Woman's College entertained the members of the Junior class at the annual Senior-Junior party. All the arrangements for the affair carried out the idea of the theater, invitations being sent out in the form of theater tickets, and regular programs being given out to the guests upon their arrival. Those in the receiving line were, Miss Mildred Mayer, senior president, Miss Mary Johnson, senior faculty advisor, Miss Marian Munson, Miss Carmen Dugger, Miss Estelle Cover, Miss Helen Gowdy, Junior faculty advisor.

The program consisted of a clever original musical comedy entitled, "Sen-Jun". The little play was based on the doings of the Gamps and the take offs of these popular comedy characters brought roars of laughter from the audience. Miss Harriett Keys acted the part of Andy Gump, Carmen Dugger was Min, and Margery Hamilton was Chester. The chorus of eight girls was composed of Misses Jane Mews, Jennie Lacey, Ada Clotfelter, Marian McOmber, Velma Bain, Gladys Baughlin, Mary Rose Adams, and Mildred Mayer. A pretty Pierrette and Pierot act was done by Marian De Paw and Helen Childs and Estelle Cover gave a very artistic dance, called "The Endowment Flame."

After the program a delicious two course luncheon was served in the dining room. Here pretty decorations of blue and white, the Junior Class colors were used. Covers were laid for fifty two guests and the whole event was one of the most delightful social affairs of the college season.

Miss Ada Clotfelter was the general chairman in charge of the affair. Marian Munson had charge of the refreshments; Jennie Lacey was chairman of the decorating committee; Carmen Dugger was at the head of the invitation committee, and Margaret Merker had charge of the music for the evening.

Agora Society Entertains Alpha Eta Pi Members.

The Agora society of Illinois College entertained the members of Alpha Eta Pi, the Freshman society, at a charming little tea at the home of Mrs. G. C. Guthrie on Park street Saturday afternoon. The hours were from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock, and dainty refreshments of sandwiches, tea and candy were served from a table prettily decorated in gray and yellow.

After tea the guests were invited to enjoy Mrs. Frank Elliott's lovely garden and were agreeably surprised to find a nest of Easter favors. The affair was a very pleasant one for the young guests.

The Bewitching and Lovable, in

"TILLIE"

From novel and play, "Tillie, a Menonite Maid," read and seen by millions

Tillie Getz, oldest daughter of a rich but grasping Pennsylvania Dutch farmer, craves education but is forced to slave for her father. A neighbor, dying, wills twenty thousand dollars to Tillie if she joins the Mennonites by the time she is eighteen, but Tillie does not know this, and resists all efforts to bring her into the church. The lawyer who draws the will tells one of Tillie's admirers, who is then more eager than ever to win the prospective heiress. A stranger comes to town and becoming interested in Tillie, secures the position of school-teacher in order to have a legitimate excuse for remaining in the community. He wins Tillie and proves to be the heir to the fortune Tillie forfeited.

SAYS STATEMENT IS NOT OVERDRAWN

(By The Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., April 8.—The statement made in congress yesterday by Representative Rickerts, Ohio, that "striking miners and their families in the Hocking Field are starving," was declared "not" to have been overdrawn by W. D. McKinney, secretary of the Southern Ohio coal exchange in a statement tonight.

Mr. McKinney asserted this condition has not been caused by the strike, declaring that "hunger and distress have been caused in southern Ohio for the past year because the public would not pay a price that would cover the cost of producing coal in Southern Ohio. Under in wages effect and which expired April 1, and for which the United Mine Workers are striving to maintain."

CLAIM VICTORIES IN NON UNION FIELDS

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 8.—Officials of the United Mine Workers at strike headquarters today continued to claim victories for the miners in the non-union bituminous fields of West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Eastern Kentucky. Additional non-union mines are being closed down they asserted and the number of unorganized workers who have joined the strikers has passed the 50 per cent mark. Except for occasional arrests for alleged "intimidation" union leaders said no violence had been reported.

The number of non-union men who have joined with the strikers was placed at "over 75,000 and increasing steadily." It is estimated that a total of 140,000 non-union men were employed in the industry prior to the strike.

"The stoppage of work in Fayette county where 25,000 non-union men are idle alone reduces the weekly production of soft coal by 1,200,000 tons, or one third of the total normal non-union production," said President John L. Lewis. Mr. Lewis left for Indianapolis tonight to confer tomorrow with the organization chiefs from the strike areas.

FOUND $10,000 IN FIVE DOLLAR BILLS
Washington, April 8.—A bundle of 2,000 new five dollar bills which showed no deterioration, was found by a boatman yesterday floating in the Potomac River near the Virginia side across from Washington. It was learned tonight. The boatman turned the $10,000 over to the department of justice.

PROVIDE TO RETAIN THE ORIGINAL GREAT LAKES BUILDINGS

Would Train 2,000 Men at the Old Plant Kelly Says

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 8.—Provision for retaining the original or permanent buildings at the Great Lakes Naval training station is made in the navy bill reported today.

Chairman Kelly explained that 2,000 men may be trained at the old plant and that it was the judgment of the appropriations committee that the original establishment was ample. Funds were provided he added to keep it going.

"The training station at the Great Lakes will not be so extensive hereafter," he said, "because of the changed policy to train recruits only a short time ashore before putting them aboard ship. No training station is to be closed by the bill."

The plan is to have the government dispose of the war or temporary buildings at the station. Committee members said that with the reduced personnel and by giving preference in enlistment to men formerly in service there would be less demand for big quarters.

Hampton Roads on the Atlantic and San Diego on the Pacific will remain the principal east and west stations.

Last year $400,000 was appropriated for the Great Lakes. Secretary Denby's estimate this year was $360,000, which was cut to $160,000.

M'NAB ON STAND FOR PROSECUTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 8.—
The appearance on the stand of Gavin McNabb, chief counsel for the defense as a prosecution witness and the reopening of the main case of the defense marked today's session of the third trial of the manslaughter charge against Roscoe Arbuckle. Mc-Nabb testified regarding the obtaining of certain defense depositions by Albert Sabath, Chicago attorney, the prosecution desiring to know how they came into his possession. He testified that the whole matter was handled by Eastern agents of the defense.
Charles H. Brennan, associate defense counsel, also testified regarding the depositions.

The session also was marked by the closing of the prosecution case, the right being reserved to call three more minor witnesses. The defense thereupon announced that it would open in its rebuttal and called Henry Barker as its first witness.
The prosecution held that Barker's testimony should properly have gone into the defense main case, and the court thereupon asked that the main case be reopened and the sur-rebuttal put over.

Barker, formerly of Chicago, testified that he frequently kept company in 1910, 1911 and 1912 with Miss Virginia Rappe, whose death was made the basis of the charge against Arbuckle, and that the girl was taken ill in his pres-

BRIEFS

(By The Associated Press)
MUSCATINE, Ia., April 8.—
Mrs. Bessie Farnworth, Iowa's first woman candidate for the state senate, today wrote to State Secretary W. C. Ramsey, requesting nomination blanks. She announced her candidacy yesterday for the Republican senatorial nomination from the 20th district at the June primaries.

DECATUR, Ill., April 8.—Four thousand empty sacks were shipped out of Decatur by the Wabash this morning for Valley City. The sacks will be filled with sand to protect the company road bed near the Illinois river. Reports received here were that water was already up to the rails.

MARION, Ill., April 8.—Ina Morr's, 21 years old, who was under $5,000 bond on a charge of poisoning her three months' old baby last March 17 committed suicide yesterday by plunging head first into a barrel of water.
The girl claimed that the father of the baby refused to marry her.
He is held under $5,000 bond.

SMALL PRAISES SANGAMON CITIZENS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 8.— Sangamon county, where in a few of citizenry of which, on the whole, is made up of "good, law-abiding people of intelligence and high standing, people who believe in homes, in decency and morality."

Addressing an audience in representatives hall in the capital building the governor repeated his appeal for a friendly legislature and extolled the record of his senate leader, John A. Wheeler, around whom much of the intensity of the bitter factional campaign here has centered.

Referring to his indictment in Sangamon county last June on charges of conspiracy to pilfer public funds while state treasurer, Governor Small said:

"A grand jury in Sangamon county, attended by Mr. Mortimer (state's attorney) in the face of the fact that I turned in all the interest I received and more than twice the amount ever turned in by a state treasurer before me, indicted me and that same grand jury and all other grand juries in this county have ignored the fact the various county treasurers in this great county who handle large amounts of your money, running into millions, have never accounted for one penny of interest on the funds in their custody."

BOY WANTED RIDE; GOES TO JAIL

Aurora, Ill., April 8.—To obtain a ride home, he said, Joseph Wingert, 15, of West Chicago, tonight piled ties on the eastbound track of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad two miles west of Somanuk, Ill. The obstruction was discovered by the engineer in time to stop the heavily loaded east bound passenger train which Wingert tried to board.

The youth was arrested. He carried two large but antiquated pistols. He was taken to Aurora and turned over to officers for investigation.

WIN FIGHT TO PREVENT BREAKS IN LEVEE

Memphis, Tenn., April 8.— Levee engineers from Cairo south to Greenville, Miss., where the crest of the Mississippi flood is expected to arrive during the night, declare that that fight to prevent any breaks in the levees in this section of the river has been won.

A fall is reported at all points between Cairo and Helena and the rapid rise at St. Louis, caused by high water in the Illinois is not expected to affect stages in the lower river.

ministration were elected.

whether his finger was on the trigger of the revolver. He testified the weapon discharged accidentally.

"One time I caught the gun and put it to my head but I didn't shoot. I thought of my wife and child," said Day, relating how he surprised Beck, entered the house and went to an upstairs where he obtained the revolver.

Mrs. Day told how Lieutenant Colonel Beck flew from Post Field with Major R. R. Paddock and came to her home last Monday. She and her husband dined with Beck at a hotel and Day left them while she and Beck attended a theater with friends. From the theater, she testified the party went to the home of L. H.
Prichard. They danced, she said, and later Day arrived and the party went to the Day home, where there was dancing and singing.
She said the party ended early last morning and Day drove the last of the departing guests home, leaving her alone with Beck.

"I had said, 'If you will pardon me, I will slip off my shoes, my feet hurt.' And so when they got ready I said: 'no I won't go.'
"They could not have been gone long," she continued, "I didn't think of the windows and he grabbed me in his arms and said: 'Girl, girl, you have swept me off my feet. You must come to my room tonight.'"

Tells of Struggle
"Three times I said, 'Oh, Calonel Beck; you don't know what you are saying to me.'
"And I don't know whether I beat his chest I don't know whether I beat his face—but in the struggle—I had kicked off my shoes—he had his right arm around me and the other hand was about my knees.

"I was struggling with this man, and then—when I don't know, he must have released me
I didn't hear Mr. Day.
"Why I didn't see the lights of the car come up the driveway, I don't know. I didn't hear Mr.
Day until I was released and I got up, confused and I looked and saw Mr. Day on the landing there with a gun in his hand but it was not pointed and his face was pale and haggard and distressed.

"I said: 'Oh, Daddy, don't.'
"Then the next thing I remember Colonel Beck was on his back at my feet and I stooped down and his lips moved and I lifted his head up.

"I don't know whether I said anything. I don't know whether I dropped his head and Mr. Day said:

"My God I didn't mean to kill him. The only thing to do is to call the police."

"And I looked back and saw the blood on my hands and I don't know whether I felt in a faint, I don't remember whether I let the officers into the house.

Mrs. Day testified the next thing she recalled was about two hours later when friends were ministering to her. She said she was beating the policemen when she recovered.

"I asked them," said Mrs. Day,
"to get on their knees and pray that my little daughter would not live until she got home, and they wouldn't get on their knees. I said 'send for a minister; I know he will pray that she won't live until she gets home.'"

County Attorney Hughes made no announcement of what course he would take when the jury returned its verdict absolving Day.
He previously had stated he would be guided by the evidence adduced at the inquest but would not be bound by the juror's decision.

Lieutenant Paul W. Beck, son of the slain officer, who attended the inquest and suggested many of the questions put to the witnesses by the attorney said after learning of the verdict that Day had not told the whole truth.
Many of the points brought out seemed plausible, Young Beck declared but he asserted that in his belief the true story of the tragedy had not been told.

Members of the military board of inquiry who attended the inquest would not say what further action, if any would be taken by the board.

"If you had a child would you want her to come home to such a tragedy?" Mrs. Day asked County Attorney Hughes.

After getting the admission from the witness that she did not think she had done any wrong and that her husband had done nothing wrong, Hughes asked:

"Why was it you wished your laughter was dead?"
"It is the effect," she replied.
"You know that she is just my out of life and there will be people that don't believe Mr. Day."

Saw Couple Struggling

Day told how he returned home between 2:30 and 3 o'clock in the morning to find Lieutenant Colonel Beck struggling with Mrs.
Day in an attempt to attack her.

"All of the shades to the drawing room were up," Day said, "and I saw Colonel Beck enfold Mrs.
Day with his right arm and hold-
had her hands down in a scuffle just fighting like her poor soul was fighting for her life. He was singing on, pushing.

"I went immediately to the front door and opened it. As I did so, Beck arose quickly from the divan, where they had been seated in the drawing room and retreated behind the portiers which separated that part of the house from the dining room. Mrs.
Day remained seated on the couch."

Day said he went upstairs as quickly as possible and got his gun and returned to the scene of the struggle. Mrs. Day pleaded: "Oh daddy, don't, don't."

Not seeing Beck at once, Day said he went to the back of the house in search of him, he returned to find him behind the portier in the dining room.

Day's voice caught as he related the scenes which followed.
"As I walked toward him," Day testified, "I said 'you get out of here' and called 'you a name.
Colonel Beck jumped to the side and as he did so put his hands back as tho he was going to fight me. I swung back the gun in my hand struck with all the force I had and as the blow fell he sought to dodge my blow swinging his body sidewise. My gun hit him on the head and floored him."

Day said he called the police at once, but before they arrived he recalled having gone one upstairs, cocked his revolver and started to pull the trigger. He said he was too brave for such a thing, and came back downstairs to help the poor family out of the terrible mass."

In the midst of his story, Day severely condemned the county attorney for his statement yesterday to newspapermen in which he said Day had not told the whole truth in previous statements of the affair.

"I just want to say to you,
sir," Day declared, "prosecute me to the end of the earth so far as I am concerned, if I have done a wrong and I will honor you for it, but I don't want you in the name of High Heaven and the faith of God thru these statements in the paper to cast reflections upon an innocent and good woman."

"That is not fair," he continued, "to cast a reflection upon my wife's good name. That I had seen something that happened there; that my wife had been immoral, something improper had really happened, that is the only thing you can refer to in that statement and God knows, sir, it is not true, it is not right."

Asked by County Attorney Hughes why he did not go over and say something to Beck when he first entered the house Day
said:

"A man that will violate a home like that is a dangerous man. I knew that he was a powerful man physically. I knew that frequently he carried his gun. Would any sane man have run in to confront some one in hiding; a man who is his superior physically?"

Telling the jurors of his friendship for the dead aviator, Day said he met Beck last fall and that Beck as well as other officers from Post field, visited their home frequently.

"I had given him the free run of my home," said Day. "I thought he was a gentleman beyond reproach. In truth I had learned to love him like a brother."

TWO BURIED IN FIRE AT ELKS HOME

(By The Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, La., April 8.—
Two firemen were buried in the ruins of the auditorium and gymnasium of the Elks Home, which was partially destroyed by fire tonight. It was not known if they were dead. Seventeen injured firemen were taken from the building to the hospitals. The men under the wreckage were pinned by rafters and efforts were being made late tonight to rescue them.

Early estimates placed the property loss at $250,000.

Joliet, Ill., April 8.—Warden
E. J. Murphy, of the Illinois Prison here "is very low and sinking rapidly," according to a statement given out at his home tonight. His family is at his bedside and have almost given up hope for his recovery, from an attack of heart disease over a month ago.
Mr. Murphy is seventy years of age.

MANCHESTER RESIDENT ROUNDS OUT CENTURY

rs. Nancy N. Moore Celebrated One Hundredth Birthday Anniversary Saturday at Manchester—Day Is Fittingly Observed.

Manchester, April 8.—Scott county's oldest resident, Mrs. Nancy N. Moore, celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of her birth at her home here today. There was no elaborate celebration of the important anniversary, but a large number of Mrs. Moore's friends called upon her during the day and at noon a fine birthday dinner was served, at which forty-one of her relatives and intimate friends were the guests.

The aged woman received and shook hands with every one of the 225 persons who called upon her

Mrs. Nancy N. Moore, Centenarian.

Saturday, and declared the day was the most enjoyable one of her whole life. She received a large number of remembrances from friends both near and far. One of the appreciated gifts was a golden basket containing 100 Sun-burst roses from citizens of Manchester and near by towns. Another gift was a handsome black silk dress from a number of Mrs. Moore's neighbors. This dress Mrs. Moore wore during the day and proudly called the attention of all visitors to this evidence of her neighbors' generosity.

There were numerous potted plants and great bouquets of sweet peas, roses and spring flowers and still other gifts, including a substantial sum in money. It had been Mrs. Moore's desire to receive 100 post cards from her friends and this wish was gratified, a total of 122 cards being delivered to her during the day.

Special Guests Present
Special guests at the birthday dinner were Manchester's two next oldest residents: J. C. Andras, aged ninety years, and F. P. Clark, aged eighty-seven years. There were thirteen birthday cakes, one large one sent by the cheerful workers of the Methodist church being especially handsome. It bore in pink lettering the following: "Grandma Moore, 1822-1922." Another large cake bore one hundred lighted candles. The table cloth which was used at the dinner was one which Mrs. Moore's husband presented to her the second year of their marriage, more than seventy years ago.

Mrs. Moore's three children, all of whom were with her Saturday, are Mrs. Perry Alred of Manchester, Andrew of Athensville and John of White Hall. An adopted daughter, Mrs. Newton Kelly of Jacksonville, was also present, as were four of the eight grandchildren and eight of the seventeen great grandchildren. J. A. Long, a nephew of Decatur and his two daughters were also in attendance, as were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Osborne of Jacksonville.

E. Remarkable Woman

"Grandma" Moore is a remarkable woman in a number of ways. She has retained her physical strength to an unusual degree and her mental faculties are undimmed by the flight of time. She takes great pleasure in talking of the events of her early life and is able to recall happenings of the long ago with perfect ease. She sews and reads without the use of glasses and assists with the housework when permitted to do so. Mrs. Moore is possessed of a very happy disposition and declares that one reason for her long life is the fact that she has always sought the silver lining behind every dark cloud.

Mrs. Moore was born in Kentucky April 18, 1822, the daughter of James and Elizabeth Johnson McPherson. When four or five years of age she removed with her parents to Collinsville, Madison county, and it was here that the family home was located for a number of years. Then she removed to a farm just west of Manchester and her life since then has been spent within a radius of five miles of Manchester. She was the oldest of a family of thirteen children, all of whom are long since dead. She has a half brother and a half sister living, the former at Barrows and the latter at Spokane, Wash.

Mrs. Moore's husband passed away fifty-four years ago but she maintained her home until six years ago, when her daughter insisted that she come and make her home with her. She has in her room a number of old pieces of furniture which she greatly prizes. One of these is a tall clock, the works of which were brought from Halifax. Then there are some chairs which were brought from Wheeling, West Va., by her husband in his young days. "Grandma" Moore is a resident in whom Manchester takes special pride, and all her friends are united in the hope that there may be still other celebrations of her natal day.

DR. MCGRAW WILL BE HEARD HERE TODAY

Civic Speaker to Make Addresses at Three Churches.

Dr. James S. McGraw, styled as America's rapid fire civic evangelist, now representing the National Reform association, will deliver lectures in three Jacksonville churches to-day. At 10:45 he will speak at Westminster Presbyterian; 3 o'clock at Northminster Presbyterian; and 7:30 in the evening at Brooklyn M. E. church.

The public is cordially invited to hear Dr. McGraw. Members of the city council have been given a special invitation to attend the afternoon address at Northminster.

Here are some facts concerning the National Reform association:

It is the oldest existing Christian reform association in the United States, organized in 1863.

It is Christian in its constituency and in its purpose. It is neither denominational nor partisan. Its work is for all the nations of the earth.

It seeks to proclaim the Gospel in the civil sphere as the church proclaims it in the ecclesiastical sphere. It teaches that institutions as well as individuals must obey the principles laid down by Jesus Christ if the world is to enjoy the highest happiness. It endeavors to make Christ truly King of kings and Lord of lords.

It holds conferences, conventions, institutes and single meetings, having a corps of trained speakers discussing the world's moral problems and their Christian solution.

It conducts campaigns against civic evils.

It is arranging for the Fourth World Christian Citizenship Conference to be held at Winona Lake, Ind., June 30-July 7, 1923. A remarkable gathering of the world's moral leaders. Plan to attend.

The six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lawson sustained a painful injury Friday. The child was playing upon a hay frame and fell in such a manner that his arm was broken just above the elbow. He was taken to Jacksonville Saturday for an X-ray examination, which disclosed the fact that there was an injury to the elbow in addition to the break just above.

Mrs. L. C. Funk, E. L. Maine and Rev. Olin Lee were among Jacksonville visitors Friday.

The Ladies Aid of the Baptist church met with Mrs. Emily Hayes Friday afternoon for a business session. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Sarah Grenwalt; Vice president, Mrs. Nettie Blackburn; Secretary, Mrs. Nettie Barber; Treasurer, Mrs. Anna Walker. Plans were made for the chicken pie dinner and supper which will be served next Saturday in the city hall.

DR. HILL DENIES CHARGES AGAINST HOSPITAL

Head of State Institution Gives Reasons For Supporting Senator Wheeler—No Employees Discharged For Failure to Sign Wheeler Pledge.

In a statement yesterday Dr. E. L. Hill, managing officer of Jacksonville State hospital, gave his reasons for his endorsement of the candidacy of Senator John A. Wheeler. Dr. Hill states that he is opposing Earl Rogers, also a candidate for the senatorial nomination, because of Rogers' interest in the hospital, and other because of untruthful charges made against the hospital management.

Mr. Hill's statement is as follows:

"All of the men above mentioned were discharged for proper cause, the reasons therefor being upon the records at the State Hospital in this city and on the record books in the office of the Civil Service Commission in Springfield.

"The opponents of Senator Wheeler understand, also makes a statement that there has been one hundred employees added to the payroll of the Jacksonville State hospital. The payroll for the month of March, 1922, just ended is $1,352.88 less than it was five months ago.

"During the time that Mr. Searcy has represented the people of the 45th senatorial district as representative, he has not, so far as I know, ever visited the state institution and so far as I know has never interested himself in reference to appropriations which are absolutely necessary for a hospital to secure if it makes progress.

"He is also a veteran of the world war. We have a number of ex-soldiers who are receiving treatment at this institution and at no time, so far as I am able to ascertain, has he interested himself as to their welfare and treatment they receive at this institution.

"Is it any wonder, I am for Senator Wheeler when it has been through his efforts that we have secured appropriations for new building and in every way he has done what he could to assist the institution and welfare of the unfortunate for whom it is my duty to protect and look after.

"I would be derelict in my duty as a managing officer of the Jacksonville State hospital knowing the facts as I have above stated if I would not do everything in my power to help nominate men who are vitally interested in the Jacksonville State hospital."

"Dr. E. L. Hill."

MR. WOOLSTON DENIES CHARGES.

Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Euclid B. Rogers, who is a candidate for Representative in this district, in an address at the court house, charged the heads of institutions in this city with discharging employees who would not vote for Senator Wheeler.

Mr. Rogers' statement, so far as the school for the blind is concerned, is entirely false. No employee in the State School for the Blind has lost his position. No one has been told that he is required to vote for Senator Wheeler and every person in that institution has the freedom to vote just as he likes.

I wish further to state that neither Senator Wheeler nor any of my superior officers has requested me to get pledges for him from employees in the School for the Blind.

I have been concerned in Senator Wheeler's candidacy only because of the School for the Blind. He has been keenly interested in the welfare of the pupils, teachers and employees. He has been instrumental in bettering general conditions in the school.

NO COERCION USED AT SCHOOL FOR DEAF

Col. O. C. Smith Managing Officer Says Charge is False That Employees Are Being Forced to Support Senator Wheeler.

Col. O. C. Smith, managing officer of the State School for the Deaf, has been spending several days in Benton, Ill., his former home. Col. Smith was informed of the statement made by Dr. E. B. Rogers in his address at the court house Saturday with reference to employees of the state institutions here having been discharged because of failure to support Senator Wheeler's campaign.

Last night Col. Smith over the telephone made request thru Ben Burdick, chief engineer of the school, that denial of this statement be given immediate publication. Col. Smith declared that no employee at the State School for the Deaf has been discharged for such a cause and further that employees have positively not been told that they must support the candidacy of Senator Wheeler or any other person.

The managing officer said that he very much regretted that such an unfair statement had been made, with reference to the institution and for the evident purpose of prejudicing the voters against Dr. Wheeler.

NOTRE DAME PICKS TEAM FOR RELAYS

Desch, Murphy and Hayes Will Represent Indiana School at Drake Meet April 28 and 29.

DES MOINES, Ia., April 8.—Gus Desch, world's champion hurdler, Johnny Murphy, champion indoor high jumper of the world and William Hayes, former national 100 yard champion, all will be members of Notre Dame team which will compete in the Drake relays here April 28 and 29. Director Kenneth L. Wilson of the relay meet learned today.

Desch, who holds the national championship and the Penn Relay championship in the 400 yard hurdles with a record of 53 2-3 seconds has been nursing an injured leg, twisted at the Illinois relay meet and later in practice but it is thought that he will be in top shape for the Drake relays.

Coach Rockne has wired Wilson. Captain Johnny Murphy of Notre Dame who was to have gone to the Penn relays, will be sent here instead. Rockne has decided. Murphy broke the world's indoor high jump record this spring with a leap of 6 feet 1-8 inches and he has outdoor records of 6 feet 3 1-6 inches, which won him the national championship in 1919 and 6 feet 4 1-4 inches in the Olympic games.

Hayes has done the 100 yard dash in 9 4-5 seconds consistently in meets and he, too, was a national champion in 1919 in the short dash.

Desch, besides running in the hurdles will compete with his school's mile relay team.

Because of the unusual number of high school entries from larger cities throughout the mid-west the prep school section of the Drake relay games will be divided into two classes this year, Wilson announced.

In section "A" such teams as Deerfield Shields of Chicago, Evanston High School, Cedar Rapids, Grinnell high, Northeast and West Des Moines High School and other leading prep school teams in this section of the country will compete. Teams representing institutions with an enrollment under 600 will compete in Class B, of the high school meeting.

Indications are that the high school sections this year will include more than 100 teams.

The first date for filing entries has been set for April 20.

NEW CHAMPS ARE NAMED AMONG AMATEURS

Boston, April 8.—New champions were named in all but three classes in the National Amateur wrestling championships at the Boston Y. M. C. A. tonight.

Fred Meyers, Chicago Hebrew Institute, retained his titles in the 192 pound and heavyweight classes after wrestling six men in the semi-final and final bouts. Russell Vis, Los Angeles, A. C., last year's winner in the 147 pound class was successful again tonight taking the final when John Angelo, Greek-American A. C., New York, injured his arm and forfeited the bout.

STUMPF IS RELEASED.

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 8.—Catcher Stumpf, formerly of the Chicago Americans was released today by Des Moines of the Western League. Stumpf was purchased from the White Sox team by Des Moines two years ago, but until this spring refused to report.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Jay Gould of New York maintained his long-held supremacy in court tennis and retained the national amateur championship today by winning three straight victories from Hewitt Margon, New York. The score was 6-2, 6-1, 6-0.

PENN U. RUNNERS FINISH SECOND

LONDON, April 8.—The University of Pennsylvania's quartet of diminutive mile runners finished second to the Cambridge team in the three cornered relay race between Oxford, Cambridge and Pennsylvania in England's first relay carnival at the Queens Club this afternoon. The Penn runners finished only ten yards ahead of Oxford.

The long legged Cambridge runners made the four miles in 18 minutes 7 2-5 seconds, clipping four fifths of a second from the former British record. Stallard of Cambridge led Brown of Pennsylvania 15 yards at the finish. Pennsylvania's time was 18 minutes 20 seconds and Oxford's 18 minutes and 23 3-5 seconds.

A noticeable feature of the race was the contrast between the types of the American and British entrants. The small trim, well knit Pennsylvania ran easily, even gracefully, while the British teams were composed largely of long legged men who made up their great strides and courage whatever they lacked in form.

AMERICA HAS HALF OF BEST TENNIS MEN

English Expert Reviews Best Players of World—Places Mrs. Mallory Second to Suzanne Lenglen.

LONDON—Half of the world's best lawn tennis players are Americans, according to selections made by A. Wallis Myers, an English expert who accompanied the English Davis cup team to the United States in 1921. Mr. Myers includes four men and six women hailing from the United States in his recently published two "First Tens."

The expert's comment on American women players is especially noteworthy in view of the fact that this is the first time he has included selections of a women's "First Ten" in his annual review and that he gives the United States a majority place. Referring to this Mr. Myers says:

"Surely a sign that the gulf in the standard of play between the two hemispheres has now disappeared. For the development in women's play on the other side in recent years I think we have to thank, firstly, the organizing genius of the Americans, secondly, the example of greater speed rendered by the men and, thirdly and perhaps mainly, the spirit of successful competition which animates every girl in the United States."

Mr. Myers places Mrs. Mallory, the American champion, who won over Suzanne Lenglen in America last year, second to the French champion and the other eight leaders as follows: Miss M. Browne (United States), Miss E. Ryan (United States), Miss K. McKane (England), Mrs. Bundy (United States), Mrs. Peacock (India), Mrs. Beamish (England), Miss E. Goss (United States) and Mrs. Jessup (United States).

The "First Ten" among men is headed in order by W. T. Tilden, W. M. Johnston and Vincent Richards. Mr. Myers thinks their position at the top of the list is "absolutely justified." R. N. Williams is placed ninth, while the remaining six are: "Fourth, Z. Shimidzu (Japan); fifth, G. L. Patterson (Australia); sixth, J. C. Anderson (Australia); seventh, B. I. Norton (South Africa); eighth, M. Alonso (Spain) and tenth, A. H. Gobert (France)."

Noting that Richards enters the first ten for the first time, the writer adds: "If Richards had a sounder constitution one might confidently predict for him a more dazzling career even than Tilden. His style is certainly more pleasing to the eye than the champion's; there is greater ease of execution, a more refined touch and a greater speed overhead. Richards contemplates a visit to Wimbledon in 1922. He would unquestionably be its greatest attraction."

LONDON — Competitions among the girls of Great Britain to obtain places in the British team for the forthcoming Women's Olympiad to be held at Monte Carlo, is very great here just now in view of the eliminating trials which are shortly to take place.

The events at the Olympiad include: Putting the shot, throwing the javelin, hurdling the flat events over long and short distances.

SHOTTON WILL AGAIN MANAGE ON SUNDAYS

ST. LOUIS.—Burt E. Shotton, a former outfielder, is being successful as one-seventh manager of the St. Louis Nationals.

Branch Rickey, manager of the Cardinals, does not direct his club on Sundays and does not attend the games. So Shotton for the last two seasons has been the Sunday manager.

The one-day-a-week pilot has a better percentage than Rickey for the last two years, having a winning percentage of .628, where as that of Rickey is only .511.

During two years Shotton has won 27 games and lost 16, while Rickey's figure is 135 victories against 129 defeats.

LEXINGTON WINS NATIONAL TITLE

Defeated Mount Vernon, Ohio in Final Basketball Game in Chicago—Rockford Won Third Place.

CHICAGO, April 8.—Lexington, Ky., won the national interscholastic basketball championship tonight by defeating Mount Vernon, Ohio, 44 to 28. Rockford, Illinois finished third and Hume-Fogg Academy of Nashville, Tenn., fourth.

In the finals the light Lexington team proved too speedy for their Ohio opponents. At the end of the first half the score was 15 to 14 in favor of Lexington, but with the opening of the second half, Mount Vernon's defense seemed to crumble, Lexington scoring steadily.

The passing of McFarland of Lexington was one of the features of the game. Smith was the star for Mount Vernon but was forced to retire in the latter part of the game.

Mount Vernon made a big fight in overcoming a big lead and defeating Rockford 22 to 20. In the first round of the semi-finals, the Ohioans were outgeneraled and outplayed in the first half, which closed with the score 13 to 3 in favor of the Illinoisians.

The Ohio players began a desperate uphill battle in the second period which kept the large crowd in an uproar. The speed and gameness of the Ohioans were declared on a par with anything ever seen in the University gymnasium. Rockford struggled with equal gameness but was unable to stop Mount Vernon which tied the score, 16 to 16. The slashing attacks of the Ohioans was led by Cedric Smith, center.

With the end in sight Rockford increased its pace and scored four more points the result of two successive baskets. The Ohioans then tightened their defense into a veritable stone wall while their offensive opened a spectacular series of plays which again tied the score 20 to 20. Less than two minutes from the finish Mount Vernon put over a free throw "quickly by a second giving them a lead of 22 to 20."

The Lexington, Ky., team won the second game of the semi-finals defeating Hume-Fogg Academy of Nashville, Tenn., 35 to 26. The game was fast but did not approach in speed the Rockford-Mount Vernon contest. The excellent short passing of the Lexington team and the long basket shooting of McFarland, Lexington forward featured the game. McFarland almost won the game for his team single handed, making 27 of the 35 points.

RACING ACTIVITIES CENTER AT RANDALL

Big Stakes for Grand Circuit Meeting in July.

CLEVELAND, O. — Harness horse activity and interest of Grand Circuit followers here are centered in North Randall race track where spring training will commence soon following the usual winter jogging. More than 15 trotters and pacers are now quartered at the track where the first Grand Circuit meeting of the season will be held the week of July 3. That number will soon be augmented as many stables are due to ship their horses here to complete their training for the circuit meetings.

The stake program for the July Grand Circuit meeting at North Randall is identical with that of 1921. It includes the Ohio, 2:08 trot, valued at $5,000; The Tavern "Steak" 2:14 trot, valued at $5,000; the Fasig, three year old trot with $2,000 value; the Trotting Sweepstakes for 2:05 horses with $1,500 added money and the Edwards, 2:08 paces, value $3,000.

The entries for these events have already closed, each drawing a great list of nominations.

The stake list for the July meeting carries a total money valuation of $16,500.

Seven stakes are listed for the second meeting at North Randall, the week of August 7, with a total money valuation of $22,500, said to be the richest stake program mapped out for any six days of harness racing in 1922.

These seven stakes for the August meeting are as follows:

North Randall Trotting Sweepstakes for trotters with records (race or time) of 2:06 or better, two dashes of one mile, added money $5,000.

The Plain Dealer, 2:08 class trotting 3 heats, value $5,000.

The Press, 2:16 class trotting, 3 heats, value $5,000.

The Leader, 2:06 class pacing, 3 heats, value $3,000.

The Championship Stallion Stake, for 3 year old trotters, estimated value $11,000.

The American Sportsman Sweepstakes, 2 year old trotters, value $9,500.

WEISMULLER SETS NEW MARK

DETROIT, April 8.—John Weismuller, Illinois athletic club, clipped two fifths of a second off his own world's record for the 220 yard free style in winning the national championship for that distance in the Detroit Athletic Club.

Christopher Horner from west of the city was in the city on business yesterday.

BOYCOTT PLACED ON PRO BASEBALL

CHICAGO, April 8.—Emmet T. Flood, Chicago representative of the American Federation of Labor today announced a boycott of professional baseball on the part of the unions he represents. The boycott will continue, Mr. Flood said, as long as former Judge K. M. Landis continues as baseball commissioner.

Mr. Flood charged that Judge Landis, who acted as arbiter in the Chicago building trades dispute and handed down a wage decision permitted himself to be used as "a tool of big business" in its alleged efforts to disrupt building trades unions.

"His so-called standard agreement," he said, "makes the union man as helpless as the professional ball player who is bought and sold at the whim of the club owner."

Mr. Flood asserted most of the building unions had agreed to fine members attending a big league game and said other unions were asked to follow the example.

GILL MAKES HIS FINAL SELECTIONS

Takes Twenty Three Athletes to Texas for Training—Angler Throws Javeline 196 Feet in Tryout.

Champaign, Ill., April 8.—Track Coach Harry Gill of the University of Illinois today made his final selection of 23 athletes who will go to the southern training trip into Texas beginning April 13 and ending April 21. He chose the athletes after watching a tryout track meet here this afternoon in which 50 star caliber athletes competed.

The men will meet Rice Institute in Houston on April 15, and Texas University in Austin on April 18. These meets are to prepare the Gill men for the Drake relay on April 29.

In the tryouts this afternoon Angler threw the javeline 196 feet, Ayres stepped the century in 10 seconds flat and Fessenden ran the quarter mile in 49 4-5 seconds in the rain.

Following are the men who will go with the Illinois team:

Captain Howard Yates, Buffalo; Gordon F. McGinnis, Aurora, Ill.; Russel F. Wharton, Moline, Illinois; B. B. Pamerson, Houston; Robert Ayres, Pinsdale; Vincent Ascher, Freeport; H. Smith Wallace, Chicago; Sam H. Wallace, Wheaton; Franklin Johnson, St. Louis; Russell Scott, Evanston; R. E. Swanson, Prophetstown; Fred Schlappitz, St. Louis; Harold M. Osborne, Butler; P. A. Sweet, Battle Creek, Mich.; Douglas A. Fessenden, Onawa; W. C. Cannon, Buckley; Milton Angier, Beardstown; W. F. Kloepper, St. Louis; P. L. Carlson, Lake Forest; George Chandler, Kansas City; BH, J. Collins, L. A. Mollie and Eddie Wells, Oak Park.

Four splendid Easter Hymns by Trinity Quartet

"The Strife is O'er, the Battle Done" is one of the most glorious and familiar of Christian hymns, with its triumphant "Alleluia" at start and finish. On the reverse of this record is that grand old tune "Duke Street" to which is set "Our Lord is Risen from the Dead," by Charles Wesley, one of the great 18th century English hymnists.

Victor Double-Faced Record 18820

"God So Loved the World," on the second record, is from Sir John Stainer's well-known oratorio, "Crucifixion," devoutly and artistically sung. All the jubilation of the Easter tide is in "Christ the Lord is Risen Today." On the other side is Charles Wesley's word-setting to Mozart's inspired melody.

MURRAYVILLE WILL VOTE ON HIGH SCHOOL

County Superintendent H. H. Vasconcelos had a petition filed in his office, asking that a vote on the proposition of discontinuing the Murrayville Community high school district be considered. The petition comes under Section 22 of the school law which provides that after a high school district has been in operation two years, a vote to decide its future may be taken if a suitable number of voters demand it.

It was stated by the superintendent that an election will be called during the next three weeks.

The several petitions, with a total of 131 signatures, were circulated by W. Edgar Masters, James C. Lonergan, T. P. Langdon, Newton Brown and Frank J. Robinson, in the Murrayville district, and were filed as one petition.

PAUL FRITCHEY TO WED

SAN FRANCISCO GIRL

The San Francisco Chronicle in a recent issue announces the engagement of Miss Elvera Russell to Mr. Paul Fritchey, formerly of this city. A picture of Miss Russell accompanied the notice and she is evidently a very attractive young woman.

Copies of the Chronicle have been received by Miss Ella Minter and other Jacksonville friends of Mr. Fritchey. The Chronicle's notice reads:

"Friends of Miss Elvera A. Russell, formerly of Minneapolis and daughter of E. Russell, will be interested to learn of her engagement to Paul B. Fritchey, son of Judge and Mrs. T. A. Fritchey of Olney, Illinois. He is a member of the firm of A. L. Hettrich & Co. of San Francisco, and associated with his brother T. A. Fritchey, Jr., of Shanghai, China. Miss Russell's engagement was announced at an informal luncheon Saturday afternoon.

"Mr. Fritchey, a former secretary of the Jacksonville, (Ill.) Chamber of Commerce, is a graduate of the University of Illinois and a member of Kappa Sigma 'fraternity'."

SEARCY AND ROGERS TALKED TO VOTERS

Sangamon County Men Heard By Large Audience at the Court House — Charged Senator Wheeler With Unfair Methods — Hot Reply to Scott McBride of Anti-Saloon League.

A crowd that filled the circuit court room listened yesterday afternoon to Rev. Euclid B. Rogers pastor of Central Baptist church of Springfield, and Representative Earl B. Searcy, also of Springfield. Rev. Mr. Rogers is one of the Republican candidates for representative, and Mr. Searcy is the Republican candidate for nomination for state senator, opposing Dr. John A. Wheeler.

Both men made a strong plea for clean politics and clean government. Representative Searcy said, in part:

"I realize that the full strength of Dick Dye, Governor Small's political leader of Morgan county, and some of the state institutional heads of this city are foremost among Senator Wheeler's supporters. The governor has sent out word that Morgan county must be carried for Wheeler, and for Samuel Moore, the administration candidate for the house, or there will be some political head-chopping."

"It is the privilege of Mr. Dye and his followers to back Mr. Wheeler if they want to. I have refused, and still refuse, to stand unqualifiedly back of Governor Small and his political schemes. He and his henchmen are endeavoring to prevent a free and untrammelled expression of political performances in this district. I am against such politics.

"F. Scott McBride, who I understand, will be here Monday, probably will tell you that I am backed by the wrong political organization in Sangamon county. That organization did not dictate to me my stand on moral questions last year in the legislature, and it will not do so if I go to the senate. I am what I am because I believe from conviction.

"Mr. Hill, of one of the state institutions here, has said that no one has been discharged because of refusal to co-operate with the Small-Wheeler-Dye plan. I have talked with some of the men who have been let out. In the case of Elzie Hagan, of Waverly, a service man, Hagan was told that his work, otherwise, was good; but that his failure to co-operate with the Wheeler plan would be accepted as equivalent to a resignation. Hagan, standing on his rights, quit."

Rev. Mr. Rogers attacked vigorously the Small-Wheeler way of manipulating politics. He declared that, although he has been endorsed by the Anti-Saloon League, Small-Wheeler paid workers have been confining their efforts to Senator Wheeler and Sam Moore exclusively.

Mr. W. L. Alexander presided at the court house meeting, and introduced the candidates.

WATER AT MEREDOSIA IS STILL RISING

Levees Are in Danger But Still Holding—High Record of 1913 Almost Reached.

Meredosia, April 3.—The stage of the river tonight is 21 feet and 3 1-2 inches. This is within one half inch of the mark of 1913. Thus far all levees have withstood the high water but those to the north and west are now threatened, as the water is still rising.

The fill at the approach of the railroad bridge made in preparation for opening the bridge to general traffic has not been damaged. This work has been protected with bags of sand and citizens do not believe that the water will get high enough to do any material damage.

NAVAL BILL CARRYING OUT THE 5-5-3 RATIO REPORTED FAVORABLY

Measure Carries a Total of $233,324,000—
This is $181,000,000 Less Than Amount Appropriated Last Year—Full Explanation is Given of the Various Provisions

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 8.—The 1923 naval bill carrying out the five-five-three ratio was reported today to the house.
It carries a total of 233,324,000, or $181,000,000 less than appropriated last year. There remains to be appropriated in a separate measure later about $60,000,000, estimated by the navy department as the cost of cancellation of contracts for ships not completed and ordered scrapped. Briefly this is what the bill does:
Cuts the enlisted personnel from 95,000 to 65,000, plus 2,000 apprentices.
Leaves officer total substantially intact, except for the dropping of 389 reserve officers on active duty.
Authorizes commissions for only 200 of the 535 first class men at Annapolis to be graduated in June.
Lays up 254 vessels of "nondescript character."
Eighteen battleships are allotted the United States under the naval treaty. In rounding out a fleet the bill reduces the number of destroyers in commission from 278 to 193, authorizes 84 submarines, all the cruisers and lighter auxiliary craft.
Of the 47,000 enlisted personnel it provides 50,000 for ships afloat.
Provides for the same number of officers in marine corps and 19,500 enlisted men, a reduction of less than 1,000. This number will be cut to 17,500 with the withdrawal in the next year of 2,000 marines from Santa Domingo, who will not re-enlist.
Representative Kelly of Michigan, chairman of the sub-committee on appropriations made pub-for convey purposes and not required in connection with the 18 battleship fleet allowed under the treaty.

"Third by estimating from the list of naval vessels to be kept in commission some 254 vessels of a nondescript character of little or no military value including Eagle boats, sub-chasers, tugs, yachts, motor boats and miscellaneous craft of small tonnage by the score.
"If all these hundreds of small vessels built or picked up during the war to meet a special need are to be retained in the service and kept in full commission tens of millions of dollars will be required for their maintenance, repairs and personnel. No greater service can be performed for the navy at this time than to cut out all this vast accumulation of deadwood.
"Commission all Destroyers
"We are providing sufficient personnel to keep in full commission 103 destroyers or all that the navy department requested to be kept in full commission. The balance of the destroyers are a military asset of great value. They are to be kept out of commission but kept in first class condition. This policy will save the enormous expense of personnel, fuel oil, repairs and upkeep of this great fleet of surplus vessels.
"Under the terms of the treaty the United States is to retain 18 battleships. The appropriation carried in this bill is sufficient to provide personnel for keeping all these battleships in full commission which as large a complement of men on board as has been carried in recent months with 163 destroyers, 84 submarines, all our available cruisers, necessary oilers, tenders, airplane carriers, ammunition ships, colliers, store ships and every other auxiliary required to make the 18 capital ship fleet complete, well rounded out and properly manned and officered.
"In short the bill seeks to give effect to all reductions made possible by the conference, and makes ample provision for maintenance on relative naval strength unimpaired.
"The whole number of officers, enlisted men, marines, students and midshipmen provided for in this bill numbers 97,600. The British naval establishment and ours so far as personnel is concerned will stand almost exactly at the same point. The estimates for the British navy exclusive of pension amount to 54,000,000 pounds or $234,000,000. This bill carries $233,324,000.
"As to Japan, figures as to personnel or probable appropriations are not available but Japan is permitted to retain only 12 battleships. She has only 62 destroyers and 27 submarines. With such a small fleet it is difficult to imagine how she could use in excess of 40,000 men in her navy.
"Translates Hope Into Reality
"It will be seen therefore that the bill preserves the five-five-three ratio and translates into a reality the hope and expectancy that the enormous burdens incident to preparation for war would be materially reduced.
"Secretary Denby's original estimate called for 90,000 enlisted men and 6,000 apprentices. Because of the heavy enlisted cut the committee left the official personnel line and staff—about where it was.
"With the elimination of 38 reserves now on active duty and counting 200 new officers from the naval academy the total will be 6,356.
"The navy got nearly all it asked in revised estimates for fuel, the bill carrying $16,000,000.
"The committee estimated it would cost $150,000,000 to complete battleships Washington and West Virginia and two of the battleship cruisers as airplane carriers.
"Chairman Madden of the appropriations committee declared the only request by the navy department not complied with had references to 23 destroyers, which it was sought to have kept in half commission.
"But provision has been made," he added, "for all the patrol services requested by the navy in Mediterranean waters in the far east and in South American waters. Every submarine requested by the navy has been provided for on the basis of being kept in full commission."

MORE MONEY NEEDED?

Roger W. Babson Answers the Farmers Question

Wellesley Hills, Mass., April 8.—Checking up the findings of his recent tour of investigation with the figures available at his home office, Roger W. Babson, the statistician today made a very interesting observation regarding our present supply of money.
"Everywhere throughout the south and middle west," he says, "I found business men and farmers clamoring for more money and more credit. The cry is not a new one. Ever since we have had money, men have looked to the apparently simple formula of more money as a solution to financial problems.
"Witness Europe to day for example. They have followed this plan—meeting each new emergency with more money and more credit. As a result the franc has fallen from 19c to 9c; the lire from 19c to 5c; the mark from 23c to 1-3 of a cent, and the Australian crown from 20c to one hundredth of a cent! Living costs have gone to ridiculous heights in these latter countries and everywhere is much worse off than they were before the inflation took place.
"While this has been going on we have steadily reduced currency and credit. Our circulating media has been cut from $9.43 per capita—the figure for November 1920 to $5.27 in March 1922. This is fundamentally an improvement which critics have failed to realize. Fundamentally our finances are better than they have been for years.
"No, the farmers trouble is not due to the supply of money," continued Mr. Babson, "but to the fact that our merchandizing machinery is temporarily out of joint. An increase of currency and credit at this time would boost living costs and make conditions worse instead of better. You cannot solve our economic problems by legislating prices up and down or by running the printing presses overtime. Prosperity is measured in goods not in gold.

"Our merchandizing machinery needs oiling and cleaning. Distribution must be speeded up—middlemen who do not serve a legitimate need must be eliminated—freight rates must be reduced—in short, our channels which lead from producer to consumer which now wander about like cow paths on the general theory that the longest way around yields the greatest number of profits must be reconstructed on the cold mathematical truth that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points.
"Incidentally there is altogether too much ignorant criticism of the Federal Reserve Board. This group of men has done a wonderful work during this trying period of readjustment and has stuck by its guns in spite of tremendous pressure and public demand for a 'more liberal' policy. This single body of clear thinking men has done more to keep us out of the sort of economic mess that Europe finds itself in today, than all the rest of the country put together. They deserve your enthusiastic support."
Mr. Babson went on to discuss general conditions which are holding up very well in spite of industrial unrest. The Babsonchart index for instance shows general business is running but 13 per cent below normal as compared with 12 per cent below a week ago.

CORN GOOD FOR FEEDING HORSES

Deen Davenport Says Corn and Alfalfa is Ideal Ration For Work Animals.

URBANA, Ill.—It is "next to impossible to convince a farmer in Michigan, Wisconsin, Northern Ohio or Northern Illinois that corn is fit to feed to horses especially in hot weather," Eugene Davenport, dean of the college of agriculture of the University of Illinois, said today in a statement aimed at criticism he said he had been directed against against a university bulletin on "Feeding Corn Work Horses."
The bulletin said that contrary to the opinion sometimes expressed that corn is not for horses and mules, the university agricultural experiment station had found, as a result of a series of tests, that sound ear corn properly fed with legume roughness was a healthful and satisfactory feed.
Dean Davenport concluded his statement with the question: "Shall Illinois people follow the eastern custom of feeding horses on timothy hay and oats or shall they establish their own custom, reversing the process and feeding alfalfa and corn?" The statement follows:
"Bulletin No. 238, entitled 'Feeding Farm Work Horses and Mules,' recently issued by the university, has elicited a number of comments, especially by editors in the southern part of the state.
"There is no better evidence than this that one part of the world knows very little about what another part is doing. The fact of the matter is that there is no more debated question in livestock feeding than the question whether corn is good feed for work horses.
"Traditionally horse feeding has come to us from New England where timothy is the principal hay and where oats are used as the source of nitrogen and minerals; and in spite of about all that could be said, this practice has continued west into the corn country, especially in the north, where oats are common, and to a degree that is little less than appalling from the economic point of view. It is next to impossible to convince a farmer in Michigan, Wisconsin, Northern Ohio, or Northern Illinois that corn is fit to feed horses, especially in hot weather.
"On the contrary, in the south, where oats are not much grown, corn is a common feed for working animals, especially mules. In a case, however, it is necessary to mix the nitrogen and the minerals from some other source; and of all the sources clover and alfalfa hay are the cheapest known.
"The southern method of feeding horses, by which they get the power out of corn and the nitrogen and minerals from the less expensive fodders, is by all odds the cheapest of the two methods of horse feeding, and while this experiment in question, in confirming the southern practice may seem to have taught little that is new, it was after all an exceedingly important thing to northern farmers. Indeed, it was not without its lesson to both, for the southern farmers are prone to neglect providing the horse with the proper amount of nitrogen in the economical fodder, when depending almost entirely on corn for grain.
"As a matter of fact, the experiment cost nothing beyond the expense of printing the bulletin and weighing the feed. It was

RUSSIAN PEOPLE BELIEVE I. W. W. HAVE CONTROL

Think It Has Conquered United States and is Sending Grain

(By The Associated Press)
BALTIMORE, Md., April 8.—The Russian people believe that the I. W. W. has conquered the United States and is sending grain to their famine stricken districts, and that Bolshevism has gripped the world and that resistance is useless, according to Captain M. L. Hart of the Steamship Deepwater which returned today from Odessa. The ship was one of the Russian relief steamers which left here in January.
Captain Hart told a tale of famine, brutality and horror. When the Deepwater reached Odessa late in February, it was met at the pier by thousands of children, who virtually unclothed and nearly starved, swarmed about ready to beg for food as soon as the grain was unloaded. Soldiers drove them away and those who resisted were bayoneted, Hart said.
The skipper refused to allow his crew to go ashore, but one night two men slipped away. They spent a night of horror before they were able to return to the ship, according to the stories they related. They told of seeing men stood up against a wall to be shot by a firing squad, of seeing men, women and children drop into the streets exhausted from hunger and they saw three train loads of dead being sent out of the city to be thrown into a hole.
Captain Hart said that the Russian peoples' spirit had been broken by the harsh and brutal methods of the Russian soldiery and they were offering virtually no resistance to the terrible treatment they receive.

CLOSING EXERCISES OF HILLCREST SCHOOL

Friday was the closing day of a very successful school year at Hillcrest. About fifty of the parents and patrons gathered at the school house before noon bringing with them the good things and good cheer that makes a school picnic a pleasant affair.
This was the first occasion of this kind held in the new school house, which was completed in the fall of last year, and of which they are duly proud.
After the sumptuous meal had been cleared away the pupils rendered the following short, but agreeable program:
Address of Welcome—Wanda Bracewell.
Song Group—by the lower grades.
Dialogue—To Sisters at Work Recitation—Harry's Mistake—Mildred Spencer.
Dialogue—Keeping Store.
Song—Mischievous Brownies.
Patriotic Declarations—Gayle Entiklin.
Recitation—Farmer Nick's Scarecrow—Imogene Spencer.
Dialogue—Practical Use For Peddlers.
Recitation—Coming of Spring—Wilma Jackson.
Song—Waiwatha's Melody of Love—Three girls.
Dialogue—Pulling Sam's Tooth.
Recitation—A Little Boys Troubles—Wesley Spencer.
Recitation—Coming Vacation—Wayne Bracewell.
The prizes in spelling were awarded to Helen Entiklin in fifth grade, Orval McNeely in sixth and Wayne Bracewell for perfect attendance during the year. The following children have never been tardy, Wilma, Wanda, Olen and Henry Jackson; Olive, Ruby, Donald, Loren and Orval McNeely; Imogene, Mildred and Wesley Spencer.
In departing many good wishes were extended to Miss Mabel Cosgriff, the teacher.
Frank Story, who has been a patient at Passavant hospital, is visiting his aunt, Mrs. T. J. Wilson of East Morton avenue. He expects to be able to return to his home on the Vandavia Road in the near future.
Mrs. Milton Smith and Mrs. G. Simmons of Arnold were Saturday shoppers in Jacksonville.

WILL CONDUCT CAMPAIGN HERE

American City Bureau Will Send Representative Here to Conduct C. of C. Campaign for New Members.

The Chamber of Commerce has been notified by the American City Bureau, which organized the local Chamber last year that representatives will be here the first week in June to conduct a supplementary campaign for members. J. H. McLaughlin of Chicago, of the American City Bureau will be in charge of the Stock Taking and Recruiting campaign, as it will be called. The campaign will be to get new members for the organization and it will not be necessary to do any work among the old members, as the Jacksonville Chamber has only 10 delinquent memberships on the books.
During the campaign, on June 6th, the annual meeting of the Chamber will be held and the officers for the coming year will be elected. The campaign will be somewhat similar to that staged here last June except that it will not be on so large a scale.
On May 11th there will be a primary election for directors of the Chamber of Commerce, at which time twelve directors will be announced. The third Thursday in May, or May 18th, the election will be held and six directors elected to serve for a period of two years.

Mrs. R. Joyce Masters of Fort Wayne, Indiana, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Lane on West State street.

ance policies of ex-service men and women.

There is apparently a general impression among ex-service men and women who have allowed their insurance to lapse, that they are no longer entitled to the privilege of carrying a policy with the government. Such, however, is not the case; insurance can be reinstated at any time up to March 3, 1926, no matter when the lapse occurred.

The only ex-service men who cannot reinstate their insurance are those who are permanently or totally disabled or are suffering from a disability which is not due to their military service.

Although it is not necessary to reinstate this insurance until March, 1926, there are many advantages for doing so at this time and it is because of these that the government is now staging this campaign in the state of Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin.

A man who converts or reinstates his policy during this drive will pay a smaller premium than if he waits for several years. He will at the same time be building up a cash and loan value, and if he has a limited payment policy it will mature earlier. Then too, many men who are in good health at the present time may not be able to reinstate a few years from now due to some disability which they might contract in the meantime. No man, especially one who has dependents, should be without insurance, and for ex-service men the government offers the best, and cheapest and safest policy.

In addition to a Yearly Renewable Term Insurance, the government issues six different plans of permanent forms of insurance: Ordinary Life, Twenty and Thirty payment life, Twenty year and Thirty year Endowment and Endowment at the age of 62. These policies not only have the disability feature incidental to the Yearly Renewable Term Insurance, but in addition have cash and loan values; and extended and paid up insurance at the end of the first year is without restrictions as to travel or occupation, and is also free from taxation and is protected from claims of creditors.

Any communications relative to government insurance will receive immediate attention if addressed to the Insurance Section, U. S. Veterans' Bureau, District No. 8, 8th floor, Leith Building, Chicago, Ill. These matters may also be taken up through any of the 15 Sub-District Offices of the Bureau throughout the states of Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois.

ROODHOUSE NEWS NOTES.

The engagement of Miss Mary Herman, well known in Roodhouse, was announced recently at a party at the home of Mrs. Henry Herman in Highland. A 6 o'clock dinner was served to a large number of the friends of the young woman. The engagement was made known by means of a telegram which was handed to the hostess during the evening. The telegram stated that Miss Mary Herman would be united in marriage to Mr. Charles McCann of Highland and was signed "A Little Bird." Miss Herman is well known here, having often visited at the home of her sister, Mrs. George H. Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Barnett took their little daughter, Martha Louise, to Our Saviour's hospital in Jacksonville last Saturday for an X-ray examination. A form of tumor was discovered and later the little girl will submit to an operation for its removal.

As a result of the lack of preparedness, the United States was compelled to expend during the 19 months of fighting in the World War the sum of $24,000,000,000.

According to General De Castell-nau, chairman of the army commission, France must have three soldiers to one for Germany as a standing army when the zero hour sounds again.

In California of the 26 men who recently passed the examination for national forest rangers, 18 former soldiers were given preference, and their names were placed on the eligible list.

The first overwhelming victory won by any army in the World War was the Battle of Tannenberg, on the Eastern front, in which the Germans captured more than 90,000 prisoners.

War bonuses paid by the Allies to their discharged soldiers were divided, with some exceptions, into three general classes—cash bonus, allowance for clothing, a sum for each year served.

The United States Veterans' Bureau is giving vocational training without cost to more than 100,000 disabled ex-service men at an expenditure for tuition and supervision of $30,000,000 per annum.

After 24 years Congress has voted the distinguished service cross to Brigadier General Henry H. Whitney, retired, who penetrated the Spanish lines in Porto Rico, disguised as a British sailor and returned with important information for General Miles.

A proposal that the Government issue a representative coin or a bill of small denomination bearing a typical American soldier's head, has been made to the American Legion of Massachusetts. The coin, in honor of the soldiers of '18 would be known as the "Doughboy Dollar."

When Sergeant Anthony Leonard, of Mahoney City, Pa., a former Marine who lost a portion of his nose and had his cheeks badly indented from the effect of a bursting shell, walked out of a hospital with a new face, grafted with skin from other parts of his body, his friends did not recognize him.

As the result of a physical examination of regular army officers recently, army surgeons have found clear evidence, of deterioration, caused by strain incident to the prosecution of the World War. A large percentage of the officers show either excessively high or abnormally low blood low blood pressure.

The United States spent during 1920-21 on its army $348,155,303 or $3.22 per capita, while those in the British Empire exclusive of dependencies, amounted to $562,123,000 or $12.35 per capita; France, $933,927,000, or $22.52 per capita; Italy $246,081,200 or $6.70 per capita and Japan $189,082,900, or $3.38 per capita.

Thomas McCartney, of Windsor, Ont., the only survivor of the famous "Princess Pat" regiment, who is now an American citizen, has presented Judge John Faus of Detroit, Michigan, with the bayonet which he used thruout the entire war. This bayonet has 28 notches, each notch indicating the death of a German soldier by the weapon.

The American Legion in Mexico City, Mexico, recently received a request from a man who expressed his desire to join the organization, but when his army discharge papers were examined, he was identified as one of the bravest soldiers who ever received the Iron Cross during the World War. The German explained that he thought the Legion was an organization of all soldiers, no matter for whom they fought.

Wanted—A Real Business Man And A Real Salesman

A leading motor car manufacturer whose conspicuous success has been due to building good merchandise and building good men, desires an interview with an experienced business man and a real salesman.

There is an opportunity for a man with reasonable capital and a salesman who knows how to work in the old fashioned way to control the sales in this territory of a car ranking in the first group.

Good common sense and business judgment will be considered more important than automobile experience.

The manufacturer wants to meet only real business men. Replies will have his personal attention. Address Box 75 Care of this newspaper.

Church Services Today

Grace Methodist Episcopal Church—H. Tull, pastor. Our goal for today is all the members of the church in Sunday school, all members in the church service, and all on time. A minutes late will be a loss. We must do still more. We want to win, you'll be. This is to be one of the great years. The theme of the morning sermon to the morning will be "The Coming of the King." In the evening "The Cleansing of the Temple." The program of music for the day will be "Fling Wide the Gates" from "The Crucifixion" by Steiner. "God So Loved the World"—Steiner. In the evening "O Whose Sweet Compassion"—Blount. "The Crucified"—Blount.

Westminster Presbyterian church, corner of Westminster street and West College avenue—Dr. James S. McGaw of the National Reform association, with headquarters at Pittsburg, will speak at the morning service on "America - For Christ." This is a notable address given in many of the largest churches in the country. The Commercial Travellers are to worship with us at this service. They will receive a cordial welcome. The Christian Endeavor will have for a topic at 6:30 p. m.: "The Master's invitation." Luke 14:26-24; John 3:16. At the evening service "A Maker of Men" will be given. This film has made a deep impression. "Was Bruce a Fool?" His wealthy foster-father thought so when he chose the ministry. But the saving of men is shown in its true grandeur. Dr. Iglehart says "the physical and moral courage of the play is truly refreshing. It takes backbone to stand up straight and knock a moral evil hard between the eyes." "Dr. Shields will preach to an immense audience through this new play." The last three reels will be followed with a brief sermon by Dr. Smith. On Wednesday evening, April 12th, the Annual Congregational Meeting will be held. On Friday evening, the 14th, a Good Friday service will be held with special music and preaching by Dr. Smith.

Congregational church—George E. Stickney, pastor. Church school at 9:30. Dean G. H. Scott, superintendent. Dr. Post's Bible class meets at 10:00. Morning service at 10:45 with sermon by the pastor. At 7:30 p. m. subject: "The Ideal Church." 2 p. m., Sunday school. Mrs. Medora Bryant, superintendent. 3 p. m. the funeral of Mr. Martin Pierson. The deceased was one of the trustees of the church, faithful in his attendance and duties. 6:15, the Baptist Young People's Union will meet. Mrs. Amelia Sharp is president. Miss Susie Lynch will read a paper. Subject: "The Master's Invitation." Mrs. Paulina Moore, superintendent of the primary department, urges the attendance of all the teachers in her department. You have a cordial invitation to come and worship in the church of the royal welcome.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, 323 West State street—Sunday morning service at 11 o'clock. Subject of the lesson sermon: "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" Sunday school at 9:30. Wednesday evening testimonial meeting at 8 o'clock. The reading room is open each week day from 3 to 5 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend the church services and to visit the reading room.

Centenary church—C. D. Robertson, pastor. The meetings which have been held each night the past week have been well attended, but there is room for many more. Passion Week, the week before Easter, should be a period of deep and earnest searching after the things of God. Sunday school will be at 9:30 under the superintendence of A. C. Metcalf. Palm Sunday is a good time to begin going to Sunday school if one is not in the habit of going. The Go To Church Club started on its second quarter last Sunday, but there is plenty of time left to join. There are thirteen Sundays in the quarter and only one of them has passed. Opportunity to join the club will be given each Sunday until the margin of time is exhausted. Subjects for Sunday: Morning, "Jesus as King;" A Palm Sunday sermon. Go to Church Club, "Take Your Choice." Epworth league at 6:30. Leader, Miss Waive Barton. Evening, "Is There Any Hell?" The meetings will continue each night next week. The sermon subjects are: Monday, "A Law-Abiding Gold." Tuesday, "Family Religion." Wednesday, "Repentance." Thursday, "Is It Safe to Follow Conscience?" Friday, "A Fast Young Man." Saturday, "Python Eggs." The quartette choir sings every Sunday and the music is a very inspiring and beautiful part of the service.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES

The Children's Festival will be held May 11, 12 and 13. The various recitals will be announced later. Of unusual interest is the ensemble work of the children's classes under the direction of Miss Mahus. They will play two children's symphonies. Mme. Clementine de Vere Sapio will spend a few days with her daughters, Miss Olga Sapio and the Horbushs preceding her recital which will be given in Music hall, Friday, April 21.

The following recital dates will be of interest to the public: Easter Vesper service, Sunday afternoon, April 9, at 4 o'clock, and the annual concert of the Madrigal club, Monday evening, April 10.

Miss Suzanne Rinehart, violinist, Miss Grace Styles, pianist, and Miss Frederica Balch, soprano, gave a concert at Palmyra Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Palmyra Woman's club.

The Easter vacation for the College of Music will begin on Friday, April 14th, and continue until Tuesday, April 18th. A number of the teachers are planning to spend their vacation out of town.

Misses Horsbrugh, Sapio and Miller.

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

This 50 Horse Power Beauty Brings You Paige Mastery at $1465

WITH the fifty horse power motor of the Paige 6-44 you can accelerate from five to twenty-five miles per hour in nine seconds flat. Stop and think what this amazing flexibility means in city driving as well as on the hills.

Such rare spirit is, of course, not accidental. It is the result of years of patient study and research. It is the active expression of a fully perfected, six cylinder power plant that is designed and built by men who know how.

Why not take a ride in the 6-44 today? Get out where you can challenge that mighty reservoir of power. Sink back in the cushions and experience the comfort of oversize springs and perfect distribution of weight.

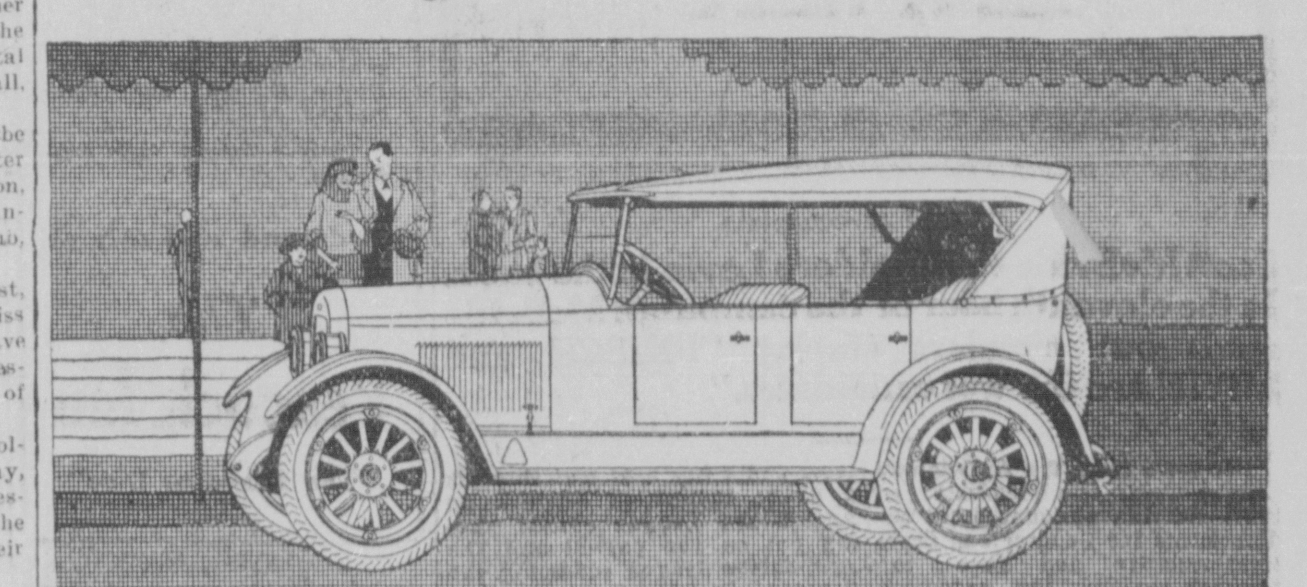

Then remember that this great car—formerly priced at $1965—can be your comrade and helpmate for only $1465.

Real Six Cylinder Comfort for $1065

Sixes run smoother, throttle down lower, pick up faster, climb better—do everything you want a car to do better than a four can do it. You'd sooner drive a six than a four.

And now that the Jewett Six is available at $1065 F. O. B. factory, there is no reason why you should not have a six. No longer need you put up with the lesser abilities of a four when at this low price you can have not only such performance but also such strength and stability as is yours in the Jewett Six.

Paige-designed and Paige-built the Jewett is above all things a quality automobile. The 50 horsepower, 6-cylinder motor—larger and stronger than that used in any other car in its price class—is built complete in the Paige shops. It is the perfected output of a manufacturing institution that for years has built powerful, smooth-running, capable power plants.

Study the flow of this mighty power as it is delivered in the Jewett chassis back through clutch and gear, drive shaft and axle and you will find every essential unit remarkably strong and capable. Here is the sound, sturdy construction that will stand up under the hardest work. And it will last the longer in the Jewett because the inherently balanced, smooth-running six does not jerk and vibrate.

This Six of remarkable performance and unusual strength is available at this low price because of the unusual position of the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company. With no bonded indebtedness, with great financial strength, with complete facilities, with a rapid turnover of capital, this company was able in producing a new six to take full advantage of the present materials market and to offer you real quality at a price never before possible in a really high-grade six-cylinder automobile.

Ride in a Jewett today and let it prove its strength and power to you in demonstrated performance. We ask the opportunity to prove to you to your own satisfaction that this six does beat fours.

Scott McBride stabs Isidore Levin in the back. In the eleventh hour of the campaign McBride sends out circulars stating "FRISCH and LEVIN are the wet candidates."

For some time the Anti-Saloon League under the leadership of Scott McBride announced its endorsements for Senator and State Representative and gave the League's reasons for endorsing Wheeler, Moore and Rogers.

Although I have been dry all my life, and much more of a dry than Mr. Moore, I paid no attention to the endorsements.

Now in the eleventh hour (a few days before the primary) the Anti-Saloon League sends out recommendations by mail and makes the statement that Frisch and LEVIN are the wet candidates.

The truth is that Mr. Frisch is wet, there is no question about it, I am dry and there is no question about it.

Brewer Oust Levin's Daughter
In 1916 my little girl was sent out of a brewer's home on North Sixth street, Springfield, where she played with his children because I had displayed in my window the well known Anti-Saloon League poster with the words, "The Saloon or the Children."

I supported the dry cause when Springfield was voted dry and a number of wholesale liquor dealers to this day will not talk with me. They can testify that this is the truth. I addressed public meetings for the dry cause and to this very day persons engaged in the liquor business feel unkindly to me and pass me up on the street.

One Hundred Percent Dry Record
I am dry, have been dry and in spite of deliberate falsehood spread by the men who are in charge of the Anti-Saloon League I will always vote dry if elected to the legislature.

In all my speeches in this campaign I have told the public I am a dry and have informed Rev. Yule, district superintendent that I am dry and I told him I would vote dry even should I not receive the League endorsement.

Unpleasant Truth
When I called on Rev. Yule he said that he did not like my attack on the League. I am attacking the league officials who have hatched up the Anti-Saloon League with the defunct sinking, corrupt Small machine of grafters. I have called the attention of the public to the fact that the League has endorsed for Senator the man who put Dr. Knudson on the payroll, for $250.00 a month in a no-work job and that Dr. Knudson is a high official in the Anti-Saloon League and has considerable to say as to who shall be endorsed.

I have said on the public platform and I say now that there is a direct connection between an Anti-Saloon League official being put on the payroll and the Anti-Saloon League endorsing the Senator who put him on the payroll.

The Fair Thing To Do.
If Scott McBride is on the square he will now send out a letter before the primary to every one receiving a false report and correct it. I have a right to expect the truth from a layman and have always expected more from a preacher.

I am not personally interested in the election of a Senator from this district as I am running for the House. I am for Searcy for State Senator because I am opposed to graft and official anarchy. Because I am opposed to the Small administration does not mean that I am opposed to state government and like-wise because I am opposed to the high-handed mismanagement by Scott McBride, Yule and their associates does not mean that I am opposed to the Anti-Saloon League.

My neighbors, my business and law associates will testify unreservedly that I am DRY.

But I am opposed to both wet and dry grafters as I am opposed to the grafters in all factions of all parties.

Before we worry about a wet or dry government we should abolish official anarchy, payroll padding and graft. You cannot have real prohibition unless we have a Governor and a Legislature who obey the law as it is found on the statute books.

The officials of the Anti-Saloon League influenced by the Small administration stabbed me in the back in the eleventh hour of the campaign.

I have challenged everyone concerned in my campaign to meet me face to face on the platform, my challenge was not accepted but in the eleventh hour a deliberate falsehood is circulated to injure my candidacy.

White Hall Resident IS NINETY YEARS OLD

Mrs. Julia Benear to Celebrate Birthday Today—Pike County Store Robbers Caught—Other White Hall News.

White Hall, April 7.—Mrs. Julia Benear has returned from her winter sojourn with her daughter, Mrs. Lorenza Davis, in the Lorton Prairie neighborhood, southeast of White Hall, and has her home on South Main street in order for receiving callers on the occasion of the 90th anniversary of her birth Saturday. She is the widow of William H. Benear, one of the pioneer farmers of the Lorton Prairie neighborhood, and whose death occurred some four years ago, only a few years following his retirement from the farm and locating in town. The widow is in good physical condition, being a living example of what frugal habits, industriousness and correct living will do for a person of her constitution.

City Marshal Caffery was notified yesterday of the complete success of trapping the two burglars who stole a quantity of automatic revolvers from a store in Pike county recently. The pair came to Roodhouse and put up in the city jail for the night. Next morning they came on to White Hall, after borrowing a shoe box carton from the Plahn store in Roodhouse, with which they packed the revolvers for expressing to Dexter, Mo., Agent R. F. Ballard, who on last Saturday was tendered the package for expressing, became suspicious and notified Officer Caffery, who inspected and found it contained the sixteen missing guns, including one Spanish valued at $100, two Krupps valued at $50 each, the remainder being Savages and valued at $25 to $35 each. Pike county authorities were notified and proceeded to Drexel and await the claimants, and the package was forwarded from White Hall by a later train. The ruse worked perfectly. While here one of the thieves tried to sell one of the high priced guns to a railroad worker for $6.

The remains of Orange W. Edmonds, an old resident of Greene county, were interred in the White Hall cemetery Thursday afternoon. He died on the 3rd inst., at Columbia, Mo., following a stroke of paralysis, aged nearly 85 years. He was a native of Ohio, spending some of the years of his youth in Indiana, before coming to Greene county as a young man and locating at Bluffdale, where he resided until 1883, when he went to Missouri. He was a man of excellent qualities, and his memory is an inspiration to those who were acquainted with him. He was a member of the Baptist church.

The official board of the First Baptist church is drawing up plans for improvements on the church property at a cost of $20,000. This move followed a banquet in the basement Wednesday evening that was largely attended, the basement being full of members of the congregation. There were a number of speakers who emphasized the great activities in all the departments of this church. Luncheon was served at 6:30, and was provided by the ladies free to all comers. Following the basement affair, the congregation went to the audience room for a concluding praise and prayer service.

The official board expects to have plans ready for presentation at their next meeting. There will be an extensive addition on the south side.

The C. E. Miller jewelry store is no more, the stock having been purchased by C. W. Dossel Jr., who is now the sole jeweler in White Hall, having moved his stock to the Miller stand in the Fox building. Mr. Miller will locate his family with the view of health conditions, but has not concluded plans further than that his residence on North Main street is for sale.

Rev. H. R. Evans, pastor of the M. E. church at Forest City, spent several days this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Evans.

Rev. L. C. Bauer arrived home this week from an evangelistic tour of the south. He has not stated what his future campaign plans are.

Miss Mae Higbee has returned from Oakland, Calif., to remain, having closed out her property interests there.

School was closed Thursday and Friday to enable the teaching force to attend the East St. Louis convention.

Mrs. W. P. Bates has postponed her California journey until May 1st. Her son, T. B. Bates, was up from St. Louis this week.

ILLINOIS LEADS

In the April issue of Reliable Poultry Journal, Mr. John H. Robinson, associate editor gives some very interesting facts and figures relating to the Poultry and Egg output of forty-one states, showing figures for 1918, also 1921.

The 1921 showing is 1,432,864 cases of eggs, 42,204,452 pounds of dressed poultry went to the New York markets; 556,523 cases of eggs, 14,230,059 pounds of dressed poultry to the Boston markets. Indiana sends more eggs to Boston than all the North Atlantic states combined and Illinois sends more than twice as many as Indiana.

Illinois, Iowa, and Indiana furnish sixty per cent of all dressed poultry to New York and Boston, and sixty percent of the eggs at New York, and fifty percent at Boston. Turning to states which make large contributions to the supplies, it is again a surprise to find Illinois the largest source of supply of both eggs and poultry, for both markets. Every producer of eggs in these three states Illinois, Indiana and Iowa and the Illinois produces more than others, ought to realize that this means from the standpoint of co-operative selling, and of concert of action in legitimate means of stabilizing prices and adjusting supplies to demand.

It means that if in these three states, or even in Illinois alone, the custom of preserving one case of eggs in waterglass during the season of flush production were established, the immediate effect on receipts at New York and Boston would prevent depression of prices which all trade influences systematically try to force as low as possible at this season. It means further that this territory, and again Illinois in particular, is the field in which all conditions are most favorable to successful establishment of co-operative organizations of producers for sale of their poultry products.

Observation of Chicago sources of supply shows that in the same way action by the producers of Iowa, Missouri and Minnesota, would affect the Chicago supply. A few strong co-operative organizations in the best producing districts of these states could easily reduce Chicago from the position of a distributing market where conditions invite middlemen to all sorts of trade abuses prejudicial alike to producers and consumers, to the position of a terminal market competing with other terminal markets for the consumption of supplies which it requires.

With adequate organization for selling eggs there would be no occasion for preserving eggs on the farm to stabilize prices. The better way to accomplish that is by storing the surplus to the account of the organization, and at the same time seeking new outlets for fresh supplies and consumption in all the large cities can be greatly increased, and congestion at principal markets can always be prevented by developing outlets in cities of 50,000 and upward, which under existing conditions are not well supplied. D. T. HEINLICH.

JUNIORS GAVE STUNT SATURDAY

The members of the Junior Class of Illinois Woman's College gave a clever little stunt in chapel yesterday morning in connection with the endowment campaign. The girls had arranged a scene on the stage representing the college library. Girls came and went in search of books, asking the librarian, Miss Hazel Quick, as Miss Eleanor Thompson, for reference books, and magazines. It was brought out in the stunt that the library needs money for more books and this was emphasized as one reason for the endowment campaign.

It was announced in chapel yesterday morning also that the proceeds of the Spring Revue, staged last week by the Athletic Association and Home Economic Department for the benefit of the Endowment campaign, amounted to $115. This amount represents the net proceeds after all the expenses were paid.

WHICH DO YOU NEED?

There is a life insurance policy for every need. Check the form below that seems to fit your case; mail it to us; it may bring you information of value to you and your family.

☐ A Monthly Income for Life for Wife. Research shows that the average lump sum estate disappears in seven years; that 35% of the widows of the country are in want; that when the mother goes out to work the children suffer; that the chance of a child for life is 50% greater if it has a mother's care; that 90% of the boys in a reformatory are there on account of improvident home conditions.

☐ A Mortgage Policy. Your home, your farm, your business may be mortgaged. For a very small charge we pay off your mortgage at your death. With a home provided a mother will rear a family somehow.

☐ To Clean up Your Debts. A sum sufficient to pay off all personal debts, thereby leaving your estate intact for the support of your dependents.

☐ To Educate the Children. Less than 1% of American men are college graduates; yet 55% of our presidents, 36% of our Congressmen, 62% of our Secretaries of State, 69% of our Supreme Court Justices and 72% of the men in "Who's Who" are of that 1%. Will your children get the right chance?

☐ For Old Age. Statistics show that only 5 out of every 100 men alive at age 25 reach age 65 in comfortable circumstances; and it's safe to say that these five are comfortable because they prepared for their future in their younger days. Are you preparing for your old age?

WOMAN'S COLLEGE
NOTES

The Spring Reunion given by the departments of Physical Education and Home Economics last Monday evening was a most artistic as well as financial success. The whole affair had been well planned and was just as well carried out. The students are very enthusiastic over their plans for increasing the endowment and realized a nice sum from this entertainment.

The annual election of president in the Young Woman's Christian association took place Tuesday and resulted in the election of Miss Florence Weber for this important office.

Word has reached the college that Miss Hazel Dell has been appointed to receive the Illinois Woman's college graduate scholarship offered by the University of Illinois. Miss Dell's major subject toward the Master of Arts degree will be English. She will receive this degree in one school year of resident work.

A most interesting lecture was given on Friday by Professor Musselman of the Gann City Business college Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Social room.

The annual May Day pageant is planned this year for Monday, May 15th. The plan of the pageant will be announced a little later, at which time the program will be given out.

The college is in receipt of a gift of $75 for additional books for the library. This comes as an addition to the Mothershead Memorial which was established some years ago by her sister, Mrs. Lusch, of Chicago, acting with the faculty of the college. Miss Mothershead, it will be recalled, died while acting as dean of the college.

Amid much enthusiasm and excitement the Endowment Ship was launched Wednesday evening by the students. The launching took place in the court just east of the main dining hall and was a most beautiful sight. The launching was very successful and augurs well for the ultimate success of the student campaign.

Nellie A. Knopf of the college faculty is one of the American artists represented in the Second Annual International Exhibition of Water Color Paintings, which will open at the Chicago Art Institute on April 15th, continuing until May 15th. This is the most important showing of water color painting held in America during the year and it is a great honor to be represented in the collection. The painting by Miss Knopf selected by the jury is a Colorado landscape entitled "Clouds and Sunshine on the Peak," and it has never before been exhibited. Miss Knopf was represented last year in the First International Exhibition of Water Color Paintings by a decorative study in tempera called "Spring Flower Motif," and this painting has since been on exhibition with the New York Water Color club and the American Water-Color society exhibitions in New York, and is at present included in a traveling exhibition sent out by the American Federation of Arts, which will be on tour at least for one year.

Rev. S. T. Weaver of Versailles spent Thursday at the college visiting his daughter, Miss Lovisa.

MADRIGAL CLUB TO GIVE ANNUAL CONCERT

Will Be Given Monday Evening, April 10 In Illinois Woman's College Music Hall.

The annual concert of the Madrigal Club under the direction of Marguerite Palmer-Forrest will be given in Music Hall on Monday Evening, April 10, at 8:15 o'clock. The Madrigal Club consists of thirty trained voices and a very beautiful and unique program of folk songs of many nations will be given. The songs have been arranged from the original manuscripts by Deems Taylor for and recently given by the Shumann Club of New York City. This is the first time they have been given in this part of the country. No admission is charged and the public is cordially invited. The full program follows:

1. AMERICAN.
 - (a) The Voice of My Beloved (piano and violins acc.) Daniels
 - (b) Deep River (Negro Spiritual) Arr. by O'Hara
 2. FRENCH.

Conservatory Notes

The Easter vacation will last from Wednesday, April 12th to Thursday morning, April 20th. During this time, Mr. J. P. Munger will visit in Erie, Pa.; Mrs. Bullard, Miss Sorrells, Miss Pires, Miss Moore will remain in Jacksonville, while Miss Armstrong and Mrs. Foreman will visit at their homes in Gerlaw and Kane respectively. Mr. Kritch, who leaves for Chicago on Saturday evening, April 8th, will resume teaching on Monday, April 17th.

Miss Helene Sorrells will play an obligato (violin) for a vocal solo of Mrs. Barr Brown at State Street Church, Sunday evening, April 9th.

At an Easter Vesper Service to be held in the College Chapel on Sunday afternoon, April 9th, Miss Ruth Melba Armstrong will sing, Miss Eloise Capps will play violin and Mr. Frank Collins Jr. will play the organ.

At the Faculty Recital given last Friday evening in Recital Hall by Miss Helen Sorrells, violinist and Miss Ruth Melba Armstrong, mezzo-contralto, the following program was performed:

Sonata in G minor (Andante, Presto, Largo)—Allegro Commodo—Tartini; Miss Sorrells.

Spring Song of the Robin Woman (from "Shapewit")—Cadman; Miss Armstrong.

Slavonic Dance in G minor—Dvorak-Kreisler; Crinoline—Stoessel; Serenade—William E. Kritch—Miss Sorrells.

Charity—Hageman; The Cunnin' Little Thing—Hageman; Dawn—Curran; The Moon Drops Low (by request)—Cadman—Miss Armstrong.

Both performers responded to applause with two encores. Mr. Kritch accompanied Miss Sorrells, and Mr. Munger took Miss Esther Duncan's place as accompanist for Miss Armstrong, as word was received in the afternoon that Miss Duncan could not reach Jacksonville in time for the recital.

EASTER VESPER SERVICE
The annual Vesper Service by members of the faculty of the College of Music of the Illinois Woman's College will be given in Music Hall on Sunday afternoon, April 9, at 4 o'clock. An unusually attractive program has been prepared. Director Pearson will appear in a group of organ solos. Miss Ueberbach and Miss Miller will appear in solos and Miss Powell, of the School of Expression, will give a reading. The beautiful Agnus Dei by Bizet accompanied by piano, organ and violin obligato will be given by the Madrigal club under the direction of Mrs. Forrest who will also sing the solo obligato in the same number. The public is cordially invited to be present.

A Statement by F. Scott McBride, State Superintendent of the Illinois Anti-Saloon League, in Reply to Earl B. Searcy, Candidate for the State Senate in the 45th District

Chicago, April 3rd, 1922.

Earl B. Searcy has replied to my statement of last week in an article in the Illinois State Journal of April 1st. He does not seem to enjoy the poetry. The reason for that is that it contains "more truth than poetry." I share the surprise with him that I find no more truth in his articles than I do, and I am more surprised that after a week's time for reflection he comes out and again states that he stands by what he said concerning our interview in my room at the Leland Hotel. One thing in his article is true. It is that the date of our interview was March 3rd. The date proves, however, that his statement concerning what happened is false. All we ask of any one is to note what Searcy has said and get the facts in these cases. Without any personal feeling in the matter, as this is a fight for a principle and not between candidates, we are placing these in parallel columns.

Searcy says:

1—"He has never said one word of criticism against the Anti-Saloon League, but against McBride only."

On March 27th Searcy says:

2—"Three weeks ago last Friday (March 3rd), in his room in the Leland Hotel, F. Scott McBride asked me to change my mind about the editorial race and continue in the House. He said if I could see my way clear to do that the Anti-Saloon League would gladly give me its endorsement and aid."

Searcy says:

3—"That he never disclaimed affiliation with the Dick Sullivan organization in his first campaign."

Searcy says:

4—"That he is opposed to the Prohibition Bill—that it was Governor Small's Bill and that it would cost the state a lot of money."

The facts are:

1—"That in Searcy's printed letter in the Illinois State Journal under date of July 9th the Anti-Saloon League is criticised severely by him. The name of McBride is not once mentioned. These printed pages condemn him."

The facts are:

2—"MARCH 3rd WAS THE NEXT DAY AFTER THE LAST DAY FOR FILING, the last day for filing being March 2nd. No candidate could change from the Senate to the House the next day after the last day for filing unless he had filed a petition also in the House, which Mr. Searcy knows he had not done. Mr. Searcy, and no one else, thinks for a moment that the Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League did not know the second of March was the last day for filing. The memories of an all night automobile trip in southern Illinois to get to Springfield for the last day for filing kept us in memory of it. Searcy, even after reflection, reiterates this statement proven to be false by the calendar. No witness but the calendar is needed to show the falsehood of this statement. Lincoln's almanac won his case when the star witness said that he saw Lincoln's client running in the moonlight while the almanac showed the date was in the dark of the moon. No such offer was ever made to him as the calendar proves."

The facts are:

3—"That in my room in the Leland Hotel preceding that campaign he volunteered the statement that he was not with the Dick Sullivan crowd. He told me that they had offered him support, but that he would not tie up with that bunch. I reported this statement to our Committee. But grant we are wrong in this—is he their man now?"

The facts are:

4—"That this Bill was a part of the Anti-Saloon program in the legislative session of 1919 when Hon. Frank O. Lowden was Governor of the State and lacked only three votes of passing. But while it was not a part of the Anti-Saloon League program two years ago and was not voted on in the House two years ago it is now a part of the Anti-Saloon League program. Hon. James A. White, Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Ohio, says concerning its working in Ohio, "That, in addition to paying its entire expenses in fees collected, $600,000 has been netted to the state this year." Why not let the bootlegger pay the cost of enforcing the prohibition law. It saves taxes. Mr. White says further, "It is successful in enforcing the law in cities where the county and city officials will not enforce the law." This Bill would clean up Springfield. Dick Sullivan is against it. Why? Searcy is a Dick Sullivan candidate. The revenue of the Dick Sullivan faction will stop when Springfield liquor and vice dens are closed. Why is Searcy fighting the Commission Bill? The reason is plain.

Searcy says:

5—"In his first answer—"I have stated that McBride apparently is in on the Luncheon-Thompson plan to attack the next State Legislature for Governor Small's personal purposes. The thing that inclines me to that belief is the fact that of McBride's endorsement for the Senate to date approximately two-thirds of them have pro-Thompson records."

Searcy says:

6—"McBride had endorsed Senator Wheeler exclusively ten days before I saw him here in Springfield. For proof of this early endorsement, however, I will invite anyone who happens to have a file of the American issue to look the matter up." (And he mentions the issue of the middle of February.)

Our secret service men have investigated Springfield. Affidavits by our investigators show that in three days' time they bought whiskey, moonshine or white mule in over thirty places. The officers have been asked to clean up the city. They have refused to do their duty. Why? When these places are closed the revenue stops coming to the faction which controls these officials.

Searcy is the candidate of this faction. He does not deny this. Wheeler has had the enmity of this crowd because he cleaned up Springfield when Sheriff and has worked dry ever since. He is a real dry.

SEARCY IS WET SO FAR AS SPRINGFIELD IS CONCERNED.

Searcy claims to be dry. He is appealing for the dry vote in his district. AS A MATTER OF FACT SEARCY IS WET SO FAR AS SPRINGFIELD IS CONCERNED. Here is the proof:

Searcy has stated that he favors a part of the Anti-Saloon League program, but not THE PROHIBITION COMMISSIONER BILL. The Prohibition Commissioner bill is the ONLY PART OF THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE PROGRAM that would affect the liquor interests in Springfield so long as the Dick Sullivan faction to which Searcy belongs is in control. The Dick Sullivan faction does not fear any part of the Anti-Saloon League program except the Commissioner bill. Accordingly in opposing the Commissioner bill Searcy is wet so far as the liquor interests are concerned in the district from which he is appealing for votes. The one measure he opposes is the only one that would hurt the liquor traffic in Springfield under present conditions.

If the voters of the 45th district want to be represented in the Senate by a dry who will favor enforcement in Illinois INCLUDING SPRINGFIELD THEY SHOULD VOTE ON APRIL 11th for the Honorable John A. Wheeler.

F. SCOTT MCBRIDE,
State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Illinois, Chicago, Ill.

At the chapel exercises Friday morning, Mrs. T. E. Musselman of the Gem City Business College gave a very interesting talk to the students on the subject of Birds. Mr. Musselman spoke of the way in which birds build their homes, the habits of birds. He also told something about the way in which the birds protect their homes from their enemies the cats, squirrels and snakes. He concluded his talk by explaining what friends the birds are to mankind in exterminating insects which hurt the farm crops. Mr. Musselman is an authority on birds and took his masters degree at the University of Illinois after special investigation of bird migration and the matter relating to the habits of the birds. Mr. Musselman was also a judge in the freshman debate held at the College Friday evening.

PROVIDES NOVEL THEORY OF DREAMS

LONDON—Dr. William Brown, mental specialist and head of the department of psychology in King's College, University of London, has propounded a novel theory of dreams. He rejected the claim of the psycho-analysts that dreams are always significant and that every part of them has a meaning which must be looked for in a primitive desires lurking in the subconscious mind. He gave them a much simpler significance.

"The function of a dream is to guard sleep," he said before the Institute of Hygiene. "In sleep desires, cravings, anxieties, the memories of earlier days, all of which are the lower and fundamental elements of the mind, well up and strive towards consciousness while the main personality is in obedience. If they reach consciousness, sleep is at an end, but the dream, which is a sort of intermediary form of consciousness, intervenes, and makes the impulse innocuous so that sleep persists. This theory covers the entire ground of all types of dreams."

SETS WEEK OF MAY 7 FOR HEALTH WEEK

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Calling attention to a fifty percent decrease in the number of cases of communicable diseases reported in Illinois since 1920 Governor Len Small today issued a proclamation designating the week of May 7 as "Health Promotion Week," calling upon public officials, the schools and civic bodies to observe the week by systematic instruction on the principles of public health.

"The people of Illinois have cause for self-congratulation in the matter of health conditions during the year 1921," the proclamation stated, in calling attention to the fact that the general death rate in the state last year was the lowest ever recorded."

NOT GETTING ANY EGGS.

URBANA, Ill.—The campaign of state farm bureaus to eliminate the non-laying hen, has had an unexpected effect, which came to light when the expressman of a small downstate town asked the secretary of a farm bureau "why the hens were not laying this year."

He said he usually got from eight to ten eggs a day from the hens that were being shipped to market, but this year he was not getting any. The secretary told him that since the farm bureau had started its campaign to weed out the non-layers, the hens thus culled out were being shipped to market instead of the good layers.

CORN ACREAGE WILL BE REDUCED TO NEAR NORMAL PROPORTIONS

Substantial Increase in the Price of 1921
Cotton Crop Helps Some—Much Corn
Was Planted in the Cotton Belt Last Year —Should Replace Corn with Legume Crops

(By The Associated Press)

URBANA, Ill., April 8.—The corn acreage will be reduced to somewhere near normal proportions in 1922 by the substantial increase in the price of 1921 cotton crop, according to W. F. Handschin, vice-director of the agricultural extension service of the University of Illinois. Mr. Handschin today attributed the increase of more than 4,000,000 acres of corn in 1921 to an increased corn acreage in the cotton belt which resulted from an abnormally low price for cotton in 1920.

"With the substantial increase in the price of the 1921 cotton crop, we may logically expect a return to somewhere near the normal cotton acreage in 1922, and a corresponding reduction of the corn acreage in the cotton belt," Mr. Handschin said.

"While the price of corn has increased materially from the abnormally low level reached during the fall, the large surpluses on hand are causing corn belt farmers to give careful thought to the question of readjusting their cropping system in 1922.

"The large surpluses of corn now on hand are due to the favorable seasons and unusually good yields of the last three years. The large carry over of corn for 1919 and 1920, has been made still larger by the increased acreage and favorable yield of 1921. Farmers are therefore anxious to avoid piling up a further supply in 1922.

"Farmers in the corn belt, especially in the heaviest corn growing counties, should somewhat reduce their acreage of corn, not so much because the price is low just now, but because such reductions are demanded by good farm management practice. The replacing of a part of the corn acreage by legume crops, such as clovers and soy beans will assist in restoring the fertility removed by continuous grain farming. It will also reduce the cost of producing corn and other crops because it makes possible a better distribution of man and horse labor. The legume crops grown also help to provide better balanced rations for the farm animals kept. In fact, much of this legume acreage can be consumed as pasture by farm animals and the cost of harvesting entirely eliminated.

GERMANY TROUBLED WITH SMUGGLERS

Liquor Runners Carry in Hard Liquor and Make Enormous Profits.

HAMBURG. — Germany, like America, is engaged in a war with liquor smugglers. Her customs duties and a dearth of "hard liquor" instead of prohibition, is the incentive to smuggling here and the rum-runners are able to sell their illicit goods at big profits.

Captains and crews of fishing boats are doing a thriving smuggling business in all ports on the German coasts, say customs and marine officials.

Arrests of numerous skippers have not greatly interfered with the trade. Members of an organization known to have smuggled thousands of quarts of whiskey and gin into the country have been apprehended and punished but the manner in which they carried on their enterprises, believed to have been over a secret waterway, was not learned.

The offenders emphatically declined to give the authorities any information, some of them admitting they expected to continue operations as soon as they were released from jail.

The band was discovered when the skipper of one of its boats put into a small place on the Elbe and sold his cargo of whiskey. For two or three days there was an epidemic of drunkenness in the community which caused authorities to investigate and resulted in the sailor's arrest.

Fishing boats engaged in liquor smuggling meet other ships by agreement at sea and take on their illicit cargoes.

Owing to the high customs and the dearth of "hard liquor" in Germany the smugglers are able to dispose of their wares at good profits.

DOG TAXING IN BERLIN.

BERLIN.—Ownership of two or more dogs is classed as "luxury" here and extra heavy taxes are imposed under a new schedule. It is estimated that the owners of 140,000 dogs in Berlin must pay the government 50,000,000 marks for licenses.

"Corn belt farmers need to grow more legumes, not primarily because corn is low in price, but because they must reduce their cost of production. While the prospects promise for a somewhat better price for the 1922 corn

With Morgan County Poets

SONG OF A PRAIRIE FLOWER

Come with me, sweet, and we will go
A-harvesting the spring;
I know a place where bluebells grow,
And where brown thrashers sing.

We'll trip across the fragrant hills,
Abloom with haw and crab;
We'll listen to sweet-sounding rills,
And dance a round with Mab.

We'll chance on violets, I know,
And toadstools in a ring.
Give me your hand, and we will go
A harvesting the spring.

—WAYNE GARD.

MOUNTAIN RILLS

A fairy dell, a maze of rills,
Twinkling away in the dip of the hills,
Leaping with laughter o'er prostrate logs,
Spreading out into miniature bogs,
Gliding o'er mosses, murmuring 'neath vines,
Playing and dancing in the shade of the pines,
Singing and gurgling at every turn,
Then lost in the shadow of flower and fern.

TO MAINTAIN ROADS BY PATROL SYSTEM

Contract Entered Into by County Board for Dragging of Roads
by Farmers Near Their Homes.

Morgan county is to maintain its roads by the patrol system, farmers in certain sections of the county agreeing to keep the roads a certain distance each way from their homes in good condition. The county board adopted this plan after the action of the last legislature which turned over the care of state aid roads to the counties.

There will be practically 190 miles in this county which will be cared for under this system. A number of road dragging contracts have already been made and others are to be made later.

The patrol system of road maintenance is proving very effective in districts where it is in operation. A maximum of five miles is set for each farmer who enters into an agreement to drag the roads, and he is responsible for the condition of the roads for a distance of two and a half miles on each side of his home. He is supposed to drag the roads every time they need it and for the service rendered will receive a certain set price per mile per year.

SIX YEARS OLD BOY FINDS LIBERTY BONDS.

CHICAGO, April 7.—John Horner, 6 years old was playing in the rear of his home today when he discovered liberty bonds worth $23,000 on an ash pile. An investigation showed that a majority of the bonds had been issued by the First National Bank of Crescent City, Ill.

Police believe the bonds were stolen and then thrown away when it was found they were not negotiable.

BRING HAPPINESS TO FRENCH CHILDREN

Junior Red Cross Give Pennies and Dimes to Furnish Playgrounds and Games.

PARIS. — American children have brought happiness and laughter into the lives of their little brothers and sisters in France. The pennies and dimes which they might have spent for candy and sweetmeats have enabled the Junior Red Cross to give to the children of France, in their name, 25 playgrounds and innumerable games.

All the games and recreations which form so much a part of the lives of their little kinsfolk in America are taught the French boys and girls.

As proof of their appreciation of the generosity of America's help, the French themselves have now raised a fund almost equal to that contributed by the children of the United States and are planning to establish a playground of the American type in every important district of France.

Several of the playgrounds established by the Americans are in Paris and are directed by recreation experts from the United States. The average French child, especially the abnormal child born during or immediately after the war, is not inclined to play with that robust energy and that its mental, physical and moral development. Moreover, games like baseball and basketball are not common in France as in America. They must be taught.

One of the principal tasks of the American instructors is to teach the French child a spirit of fair play and unselfishness.

The French child is an individualist, playing alone and guarding jealousy its own toy. He does not fraternize or make friends among the children of the neighborhood. As a result he becomes selfish and one sided. The Americans are trying to show the French children the happiness that comes from community play and team work. They are introducing group games to overcome this selfishness and to inculcate qualities of fairness, good nature and gallantry.

SUPREME COURT OF KANSAS WILL TACKLE SHORT SKIRT PROBLEM

Suit Results When High School Girls Are Sent Home Because Their Skirts Do Not Comply With the Specifications—Entire Village Has Taken Sides in Controversy

(By The Associated Press)

LAWRENCE, Kans., April 8.—How short a girl's skirt must be to be a disturber of scholastic peace, and when, if ever, it becomes the concern of a school board, are questions to be laid before the supreme court of Kansas, following the recent action of District Judge Hugh Means in sustaining a demurrer of the Vinland, Kansas, rural school board against his jurisdiction in an action brought on behalf of Alice Hansen and Maude Buchanan, Vinland high school pupils against the board.

Alice and Maude are 15 years old, and both are farmers' daughters. Court action was brought by J. E. Hansen, father of Alice, when the Vinland school board, after adopting a rule requiring pupils to wear skirts three inches below the knees, decided that the skirts of Alice and Maude did not meet specifications, and expelled them until such times as their skirts should be lowered.

On application of Mr. Hansen, Judge Means issued a temporary order directing the school board to permit the girls to return to their studies. They did so without reservation or amendments as to skirt length. Then the school board filed a demurrer to Judge Means' jurisdiction, which the judge upheld; and Hansen's attorney announced an appeal to the supreme court.

The action of the school board stirred up a hornet's nest in the usually placid community of Vinland. Supporters of the school board said the board was right, that three inches below the knee was a liberal allowance for skirts. Others, particularly friends of the girls' mothers, said they believed Mrs. Hansen and Mrs. Buchanan who made the costumes in question at home knew more about what was right and modest for girls to wear than any three men in the county, school board directors or not.

Judge Means was made the recipient of much unasked advice and commendation from hundreds of persons in all parts of the United States.

Serious minded women wrote to him gravely, pointing out the merits of short skirts from a sanitary standpoint.

Others feared the decadence of national morals, and still others were concerned over the peril to national liberties in school boards were to be permitted to determine styles.

The most voluble adherents of short skirts among Judge Means' correspondents were women.

William Davenport of Orleans made a business trip to the city Saturday.

As Judge of the Morgan County Court I have sought to measure up fully to the onerous duties. I believe the attorneys of the county will tell you I have done so. I believe private citizens who have come in contact with court affairs will testify that they have met with promptness and candor.

Isn't this the real issue in this campaign as far as relates to the judgeship?

POSTOFFICE MANUAL MADE FOR THE SCHOOLS

Tells Story of the Postoffice as it is Inside and Outside—Compiled Under the Direction of E.
A. Purdy of Minneapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Representing months of careful study and research, a postoffice manual for introduction into the schools of the country have been completed and sent to the postmaster general for final approval. Favorable action is expected to be taken by Dr. Hubert Work, postmaster general, following which ways and means of publishing the text in book form will be decided, as will the method of the entire into the public school study of the nation.
The manual, composed of eight chapters, tells what the postoffice is, from the inside as well as the outside, its history and origin, and also how to use the institution more efficiently. It is designed primarily for children in the upper classes in grade schools, such as the seventh, eighth and ninth years, but it is so prepared that teachers can adopt portions of it for lower grades.

It is the belief of postal heads that many millions of dollars could be saved annually if users of the postoffice were properly informed of its functions. With the institution of the manual, the coming generation will be more enlightened as to postal intelligence, they believe, with resultant benefits in less errors and costly mistakes, both to the individual and the postoffice department.

Approval of compiling the text book was given by former Postmaster General Will Hayes to Postmaster E. A. Purdy, of Minn-neapolis, who together with a corps of specialists in the postoffice, and committee appointed by the local school board, spent many weeks in obtaining the necessary information. Dr. Work, successor to Mr. Hayes, also showed enthusiasm in continuing the book to its completion.

The contents of the manual include chapters on history of the postal facilities in the United States; the postoffice department; the postal service; transportation of mail; how to use postal facilities; classes of mail; the civil service, and suggested projects for class use.

Students will be informed in the manual how to use the postal facilities in the fifth chapter, and picture model exhibits are attached to the text. In this section results of carelessness are stressed and many families of illegible and erratic addresses on letters are reproduced to show how frequent delays may result from them.

Here, mention is even made about the Christmas rush and mail early suggestion is made.

An insight into the unemployment advantages to postoffice clerks and carriers is revealed in the seventh chapter, which gives information as to entrance requirements, salary, working conditions and promotion.

The last section covers a number of projects, which are to be used as class exercises for the students.

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF PRECINCT 7

I am respectfully offering you my services as your representative upon the County Central Committee. The importance of this position is generally overlooked. The policies and principles of the Republican Party, all the way up to the National Cap-

Committee, and as a member (and Chairman) of your Congressional Committee. If you see fit to renew me as your Central Committeeman at the Election on Tuesday, April 11, I will try to fill the position worthily, and I will greatly appreciate the confidence you express by your vote—and the kind words you may find it possible to speak to others.

Very sincerely, your for ser-

MANY FAMILIES MAY
CAMP OUT THIS SUMMER

CHICAGO.—Between 3,000 and 4,000 Chicago families are planning to come in the Cook county forest preserves this summer to avoid paying high rents, according to M. S. Walsh, secretary of the Tenant's League of Chicago, who said he based his estimate on "conversations with thousands of apartment dwellers and from personal investigation and observation."

"Last year about 1,000 tenants solved their housing problem by pitching tents in the forest preserves," Mr. Walsh said, "and the success of their undertaking has encouraged a great number more tenants to do likewise. Pledges have been coming in to the Tenants' League from members by the thousands, and we hear on all sides from tenants contemplating moving out of their present apartments, that they do not intend to sign up new leases."

The move to the forest preserves, Mr. Walsh declared, would leave "a number of vacant flats on renting agents hands, and will force a reduction in rents." He predicted relief was in prospect by fall.

The forest preserve district of Cook county comprises nearly 20, 000 acres, acquired at a cost of approximately $7,000,000 and skirts the outlying districts of Chicago and its suburbs.

Mr. Walsh asserted a change was taking place in the housing situation in Chicago, "not very apparent as yet, but certain signs of symptoms show that relief is at hand in the near future for Chicago tenants." Despite the fact that "landlords are again asking another increase on top of the large raise in rents last year," Mr.
Walsh cited, the move to the forest preserves, the doubling up of families, and "whole pages of advertisement in the newspapers of flats to rent," as a "rift in the renting lute."

He said that "certain renting agents already are offering as an inducement to rent apartments cleaning and decorating—an almost unheard of offer during the last two or three years."

MILITARISM DEAD

THROUGHT GERMANY.
COPENHAGEN—Philip Scheidemann, leader of the German Democratic Party, while here told the Associated Press that German militarism was dead forever. The spirit of democracy had levelled Germany to the extent that the German republic could easily withstand and reactionary assaults.

Foreign countries, he said, exaggerated the political importance of the power of the German reactionaries. The Communists were in no real danger either. They were only gradually groping their way into the German trade unions
"in order to learn their political manners."

Discussing the relations of Germany with Russia, Herr Scheidemann said the German government had negotiated with Karl Radek, Russian Soviet agent in Berlin. He expressed the opinion that the murder of Count Mirbach, for which no apology had been received, presented no real barrier against the two nations arriving at an understanding.

WOULD MARK AURORA HIGHWAYS.

AURORA, Ill.—On the recommendation of the Advertising committee of the Retail Merchants' Division, 500 road signs to mark the highways leading into Aurora from all directions for a distance of ten to thirty miles have been ordered. The Central States Fair is co-operating with the Merchants' Division in obtaining the signs, and the Aurora Automobile club has agreed to assist in placing the markers along the highways.

THE ROUTE TO THE SOUTH

Editor of The Journal:—Tuesday's edition of the Journal contained an article, written by Mr. Taxpayer in which he, again takes exception to the proposed West route as was laid out by the Highway Commission. He states that if the road is built on the western route that it will carry trade away from Woodson.

The citizens west of Woodson are not trying to kill Woodson trade at all because it would be against their own interest for practically all of them own shares in the Woodson Farmers Elevator. What they want is to have the road built where it would be the least dangerous to every one.

People of the community would haul their corn, wheat, produce, etc. to Woodson anyway, because it would be the closest market.

As to the bridges and grading, there are about two or three miles of fields that the road would have to pass thru on the eastern route and I know there would be quite a few bridges and culverts into peoples fields to be built.

Would not that two or three miles of pavement that would have to be built thru those fields be more liable to settle and be damaged than if it was built over a road that has been in use years and years?

Mr. Taxpayer misunderstood in regard to traffic crossing from east and thence, on to hard road. What I meant was when they would be together. We all know the railroad crossing would be more dangerous with a hard road alongside than otherwise.

What about the crossing north of Woodson Farmers' Elevator? Think of the dangerous corner it would be for traffic from east and south, where the view is shut off by the elevator and we know that the elevator is not going to be moved.

As to Mr. Taxpayer putting in his slam about "survey thru Ireland," that was all uncalled for, as he would be thought more of, not only by citizens of Irish descent but all the other citizens if he had kept it to himself.

Now as to Murrayville pulling for Eastern route, all one has to do is to go to the office of the Highway Commission in Springfield and see the names of many of the Murrayville citizens on file who pledged to donate work for the Western route, and who signed our petition to have the route left unchanged.

It was stated in Friday's edition that all land owners alongside of C. & A. right of way had donated ground for the hard road. I was talking to one land owner who has land alongside of said railroad and he stated that he never said he would donate land for hard roads.

Mr. Taxpayer said to come and get in the hand wagon and boost for road thru Woodson. Let me ask him what right they ever had for wanting the route changed? Was it not laid out to go the West route, and by that one can see who is doing the kicking.

There are those in and around Woodson who are not in favor of the hard road going thru it. Wake up and find these facts for yourself. In talking to a prominent man just east of your village he remarked, "that give him the oil road and he would easy get to the hard road." Now you have the oil road and have had it for some time past; no kick from the western citizens, also have railroad as a means of conveyance during winter or muddy roads—how much else would you take if given the chance?

Get in your car, take a trip thru our state and adjoining states by way of hard roads and see how many villages you pass thru and by so doing go out of your way.

Now, if you will do this instead of blowing your horn, some will get a much needed rest and you will be benefited also and see things as they really are. Mr. Taxpayer seems to be laboring under a delusion as to the real need of a hard road. It is not for the sake of bringing trade to a small village but for the convenience of tourists who want to go along distance in the least possible time.

A community will patronize their home town provided they get fair treatment, otherwise the hard road will make it handy to get elsewhere.

In conclusion I will say that when we get on the hand wagon it will be for the road to be built over the West route, as was laid out by the State Highway Commission, which we believe is the logical route.

Taxpayer and Landowner.

SERIOUS DETRIMENT TO CHILDREN'S EDUCATION
CHICAGO, April 7—Vice, lust, crime and greed are daily in evidence in the schools today and ball room dancing and the movies are proving a serious detriment to education of the young. 1,700 Chicago high school teachers were told today at their semi-annual meeting.

Prof. M. V. O'Shea of the school of education of the University of Wisconsin talked of the emotional and base attitude of the present day student, placing the blame for this largely on the motion picture.

"There is a growing tendency on the part of the children to disrespect the law," said George F. Balgatty, secretary of the Northwestern University Alumni association and this can only be counteracted by teaching him to go straight, teaching him to think and to apply his information.

Miss Anna Cruan and Miss Vera Coultas gave a party Saturday evening at the home of the latter. Joe Lindsay from north of the city was a visitor in the city yesterday.

CHINCH BUG PROOF CORN NOT FOUND

University of Illinois Says There is no Such Thing After Five Years of Experimentation; Some Varieties Show More Resistance Against Pest.

URBANA, Ill.—Experiments conducted during the last five years by the University of Illinois demonstrate that while there is no such thing as "chinch-bug proof" corn, and it is extremely doubtful if such thing be found, some varieties of corn show much more resistance to chinch bugs than others.

In a statement at the University recently by State Entomologist W. P. Flint, he said that up to a few years ago it was "generally considered that corn was corn, so far as chinch bugs were concerned; that chinch-bugs would damage any variety of corn to about an equal extent, the damage depending upon the number of bugs on the silks and not on the variety. Experiments conducted during the last five years have proved this is not the case.

"Previous to this time in Randolph County some farmers had noticed that certain strains of corn gave a fair yield during chinch bug years, and had given the name of democrat to the local strain of this variety developed in their county. About twenty-five varieties have been tested during the course of the experimental work above mentioned. These varieties were selected from the type of soil in which the tests were conducted and their known resistance to drought.

"Of the more than 25 varieties used, three have consistently shown marked resistance to the bugs; or perhaps we should state two, as probably two of these varieties are the same. The so-called democrat champion white pearl and Black hawk have never failed to give a fair yield wherever they have been grown. The resistance seems to be due entirely to the vigor of the plant. As many bugs are found on these corns as on any other, but despite the bugs, they seem to be able to produce a moderate crop, giving yields of 20 to 25 bushels even when severely infested with chinch-bugs.

"Other corns, such as Reid's yellow dent, Boone county white, and Iowa silvermine, under normal conditions and on fair soils, will undoubtedly outyield the resistant varieties. So far, these tests do not show that there is any "chinch-bug proof" corn and it is extremely doubtful if such will be found. There can be no question that some varieties of corn show much more resistance to chinch-bugs than others. All varieties have to be protected from the onslaught of bugs coming from the fields of small grain at harvest time. The resistance being shown to the second brood of bugs which attack the corn when the plant is well developed, and not from the bugs which migrate into it from the grain fields when the corn is only 12 to 18 inches high."

ILLINOIS HAS SOLD ALL OF HER WOOL

Pool of 779,000 Pounds Has Been Disposed Of—Furnished by 3,161 Growers.

CHICAGO—The 1921 Illinois Agricultural Association wool pool of 779,000 pounds pooled by 3161 growers of 89 county farm bureaus has all been sold with the exception of late shipments amounting to $0,000 pounds. It was announced today from the headquarters of the state farmers' organization.

The total receipts for the 698,900 pounds sold up to date are $113,064, representing an average net price per pound to the grower of 16.2 cents, it was stated.

"The price," says a statement from the Illinois Agricultural Association, "is below the quotations since the advance in prices but represents more than growers could have received from local, unorganized sales at the time of the clip. Questionnaires filled in by twenty county farm bureaus indicate that the poolers received two to three cents a pound more than they would have received if they had not pooled their clip."

"A further advantage of the pool to the growers is the fact that each man receives the price of his grade. The growers of fine wool do not have to carry the producers of poor wool."

A total of 2,700 blankets have been made from wool in the 1921 wool pool, it was announced, and sold to producers at cost prices.

In its announcement of preparations for the 1922 wool pool, the Illinois Agricultural Association said a reduction of half a cent a pound in handling charges had been planned.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Para-Dichlorobenzene (P.D.B.)

This is the name of the new chemical that is certain death to the peach tree borer. The substance is crystalline in character. It is applied after May first by making a small ring of the material a short distance from the base of the tree and covering it with three or four spadefuls of soil. Those interested in the details of its application may call the Farm Bureau office or write directly to the Natural History Survey Division, Urbana, Ill. for a copy of Circular 8.

Vitamines—The failure of many farmers to get satisfactory growth in feeding young livestock may be due to a lack of vitamins of the right sort in the feeds given. Some children may not be growing well because of instead of getting good milk, butter and eggs, they are getting substitutes that do not contain vitamins. A circular by Alvin R. Lamb and John M. Eward shows pictures of rates and pigs fed food with and without vitamins. The material in this circular "Vitamines on the Farm" will appeal to every thinking man or woman in either town or country.

Garden Pointers—The garden should be planted so that the vegetables are planted in long rows, to facilitate cultivation and should be grouped according to their temperature and plantural requirements. The planting can then commence on one side of the garden and proceed in an orderly fashion across the garden as each group is planted at the most timely season. The following vegetables should be planted as early as the ground can be worked in the spring (usually between March 20th. and April 1st in central Illinois):

Leaf lettuce, garden cress, spinach, mustard, radishes, turnips, kohlrabi, peas, onions, both seeds and sets.

About two weeks later (April 10th to 15th) the following vegetables should be planted in the garden: Beets, carrots, parsnips, parsley, salisify, Swiss chard, New Zealand spinach, and wrinkled seeded peas; and the following plants can be transplanted to the garden: Head lettuce, early cabbage and cauliflower.

About a month after the first planting (that is about May 1st in central Illinois) the first planting should be made of the warm season crops: String beans and sweet corn.

After all danger of frost is past and the weather is warm and settled (about May 15 here) the following warm season crops should be planted: Lima beans, cucumbers, muskmelons, watermelons, squashes, pumpkins, and okra; and the following plants transplanted to the garden: Tomatoes and peppers. A later planting of string beans and sweet corn could also be made at this time.

Fight the Chinch Bugs With Soybeans—During the past decade soybeans have been gaining rapidly in popularity on Illinois farms. One of the main reasons for the rapid increase in the acreage of the crop in this state is the fact that the soybean is perhaps the best all round plant that can be grown in an area where chinch bugs are destructively abundant. In the first place, it is entirely free from chinch bug injury, as the bugs never feed upon it. In the second place, it is a crop that can be grown, adding nitrogen to the soil and perhaps just as important in a chinch bug area making a dense shade which is distasteful to the bug and which will, to a certain extent, prevent their infesting fields where the beans are planted. Chinch bugs are present in more Illinois counties this spring than has been the case for over forty years. They are not as abundant in any one area as they have been during some past seasons, but there are many counties where if the spring is dry, they will be a distinct factor in limiting the production of all the grass crops, and here it is advisable to grow all the soy beans possible—

W. P. Flint, State Entomologist, Natural History Survey.

What the Potassium Thio Cyanate Test Shows—On Saturday we made tests in the Farm Bureau Office of a black clay loam soil taken from the farm of Edward Patterson, west of Joy Prairie; one of the yellow fine sandy loam from the farm of D. F. Beauchamp of Meredosia; brown soil loam from C. A. Rowe's farm, northwest of Jacksonville; eroded yellow silt loam from Henry Hegener's farm, southeast of Concord; black silt loam, C. S. Tornley farm, northeast of Concord; yellow ray gilt loam, C. S. Thornley, northeast of Concord; Illinois River terrace sand, D. F. Beauchamp farm at Meredosia and a mixed soil from Little Indian Creek Bottom, John Russwinkel's farm, southeast of Arenzville; loess from the bluffs of the Meredosia road. The brown silt loam, yellow gray silt loam and Illinois River terrace sand gave very strong acid reactions and eroded yellow silt loam gave only a slight acid reaction. The application of limestone on these four soils will give results. Mr. Rowe has demonstrated that on his farm. The other five will not require it for the purpose of growing clover, altho it might help some in starting an alfalfa field.

MANY LUXURIES FEW NECESSITIES

Moscow People Find Chocolate Creams and Silk Stockings Easier to Get Than Sausage Sandwiches.

MOSCOW.—Moscow has become more than ever a city of contrasts in this first winter of free trade under Communist rule. Black bread, the staple food of most of its inhabitants, grows dearer and scarcer nearly every day but chocolate creams, sweet pastries, silk stockings and Paris gowns become more plentiful though high priced.

The famine throughout a great section of Russia grips tighter and kills faster than grave diggers can work but many Muscovites are eating more, drinking more and wearing better clothes than for years past and are burning all the wood they can buy.

Many others struggling on comparatively low wages or no income at all against increasing prices and fluctuating currency, are huddled in heatless rooms with little to eat.

A considerable quantity of cotton goods from some of the Russian factories has appeared in the co-operative shops and the market stalls and there is a very limited showing of woolen stuffs but it is easier to find silk than gingham.

New restaurants, with white linen, rare porcelain, high salaried orchestras and closely waiting to cater to crowds that mingle with the sleek, white-collared, newly prosperous traders with a sprinkling of unshaven dark-shirted and sometimes unwashed diners who appear too content with their lot to bother with barbers or washwomen.

Wine is now sold secretly and soon will be sold openly under license in these restaurants. Bootleggers call daily on many strangers, offering vodka and cognac.

It is easier to find good champagne than good milk and chocolate eclairs than sausage sandwiches. The stores, reopening in constantly increasing numbers, ask prices which are as far beyond the reach of the average Muscovite as is the exclusive "mansion" in New York above the pocketbook and Manhattan shop girl.

The millions of rubles necessary for the most modest of purchases seem to come easy and go easy, however, to Moscow's new upper crust. Free trade is on. The Cheka which once made short shift of those who seemed much wealthier than their fellows is dead in name and curtailed in powers. Moscow's multi-billionaires, with pockets full of 10,000,000 ruble notes, grow bolder and sleeker daily in the Communist capital.

ALLEGED MURDERER WEAKENS ON SUICIDE

LISBON.—About 20 soldiers, sailors and civilians have been imprisoned on charges of being connected with the assassination of leading government officials last October. The investigation of the crimes continues but the identity of the superior officers who are supposed to have ordered the assassinations or at least to have permitted them have not been discovered.

"Golden Tooth", one of the sailors implicated has taken to making scenes in court when he called to be questioned. He has repeatedly declared that if he had a weapon he would kill himself. To test his courage the judge arranged that an unloaded revolver should be placed on a table near where he sat in the court-room and when he made the usual threat the judge said: "Well, do so, there is a pistol near."

"Golden Tooth" hesitated and then took up the weapon, pointed it against his temple and laid it on the table, saying that he thought better of it.

He threatened that he would kill Cunha Leal then Premier, when he was freed.

WOMEN VOTERS PLAN BRANCH ORGANIZATIONS

Would Get Facts About Candidates at Coming Primary Before Women of State.

Chicago.—(By The Associated Press.)—To get facts about candidates in the coming state primaries before the women of Illinois "so that they will go to the polls and go correctly informed," the Illinois League of Women Voters is planning the formation of local branches throughout the state.

Miss Edith Rockwood, executive secretary, is directing the organization work, which also includes the formation of a chartered branch in each county in the state and a committee of ten women in each senatorial district to work with the national organization.

Miss Rockwood, who has started a tour of the state, plans either to assist in the organization of a local branch or arrange for the carrying out of the league's program thru women's clubs or civic organizations that have already been formed.

Mrs. Henry W. Cheney, state president emphasized the fact that while the league "strongly advocates the participation of well qualified women as candidates for office, it does not believe in lending support to poorly qualified women if better equipped men are competing for the same office."

"The league does not advocate women simply because they are women," Mrs. Cheney said, "but places chief emphasis upon qualification for office."

A call to women to take an active interest in political affairs was sounded in an address to the league by Mrs. Beatrice Forber-Robertson Hale.

"A nation-wide organization of women who will forget their party allegiance and vote for principles and candidates on their merits when it is necessary to do so, will surely be a force to reckon with," she said. "Let women get as far into their party caucuses as they can, in order to put the right men up for nomination, and then let the League of Women Voters deliver the vote and check up on the candidates after they are elected to see that they remain standing on their campaign planks."

PARCAUT IS BARRED IN CHICAGO

Chicago, April 7.—Ralph Parcaut the Spencer, Iowa, wrestler who lost a 12 round decision bout to Champion Johnny Meyers last Monday night, has been barred indefinitely from Chicago rings by the city athletic commission. The action was taken because of Parcaut's alleged "stalling."

FUNERAL SERVICES OF JAMES LEONARD

Were Held at Concord Saturday Afternoon.

Concord, April 8.—Funeral services for the late J. M. Leonard were held at the First M. E. church in Concord at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The services were in charge of Rev. S. C. Hillburn and were largely attended. Music for the occasion was furnished by Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs. John Webb, Mrs. Mecca Yeck, Mrs. Hilburn, Ernest Sanders, Bert Way, W. T. Filson, C. E. Newton.

The beautiful flowers were kindly cared for by Mrs. Carrie Deitrick, Mrs. Elza Harmon, Mrs. W. H. Williamson, Mrs. Addie Filson.

The bearers were: George Owling, George Deitrick, Charles Brown, W. C. Brockhouse, O. T. Hamm, Elza Harmon, N. D. Morse Lodge No. 346 of the A. F. & A. M., had charge of the services at the grave, Joseph Schmitt acted as marshal and W. J. Hale, master.

Burial was made in Concord cemetery.

WILL REVIEW TWO YEARS OF PRIVATE CONTROL

Chicago.—By The A. P.—The two years of private control of the railroads, since their release from federal control after the war will be reviewed and many vital questions acted upon by the biennial convention of the Railway Employees Department of the American Federation of Labor, which convenes here this month.

Five hundred delegates from every railroad in the country where the department's organizations are represented have been chosen. The six shop crafts nations: boiler-makers, blacksmiths, carmen, sheet-metal workers, electrical workers, and machinists and the clerks' and switchmen's unions comprise the membership of the department.

B. M. Jewell, president of the department, has no opposition for re-election, J. H. McGrath, vice-president, and John Scott, secretary-treasurer, are also expected to stand unopposed for re-election.

Altho a long list of questions will probably prolong the convention for two weeks or more, the most important discussions are expected to center about the re-election of several railroads in contracting shop work to outside firms, thus removing the ship men from the jurisdiction of the Railroad Labor Board, and a review of the board's decisions on wages and working conditions.

LAKE MAIL CARRIERS HAVE BEGUN WORK

Ave Glad to Again Take to Water After Drugging Sleds Over Snow and Ice.

Mackinaw City, Mich.—By The Associated Press.—After a winter of unusual hardship, due to ice conditions, mail carriers who keep residents of outlying islands in touch with "the outside," are beginning to enjoy their long boat trips in the straits or lakes.

After months of pushing their boats thru slush ice or dragging them like sleds over ice none too firm, the representatives of the post office department declare it is a real pleasure to head their small crafts into open water again.

Altho his exploits are little known outside the northern Michigan country, the lake mail carrier presents one of the most romantic figures in the country today. While workers in other parts of the country are taking advantage of all the advancements of science and invention to aid them in their work, the carriers are performing their daily task just as it was being carried out 50 years ago, fighting single handed against the forces of nature.

Islands near the mainland receive mail each day, where possible, while those more remote are visited twice a week. With the close of navigation the mail carrier becomes the chief link in the lives of the island folk with persons on the mainland.

In the fall, before ice comes, the carriers deliver their pouches by means of launches. With the coming of early winter the mail carrier is confronted with his hardest task of the year. A part of the distance over his route is filled with slush and the remainder with solid ice. He equips his rowboat with runners, rows thru the slush, and drags the craft when firm ice is encountered. Hours of hard toil often are required to progress but a short distance and only men accustomed to such outdoor exertions are chosen for the service.

In midwinter when the ice becomes solid, over the entire route dog or horse teams are employed in the mail delivery. With the breakup in the spring the boat with runners again is brought into service. Later on the carrier returns to his gasoline launch, which is used until passenger steamers again appear and take over the work.

The mail carriers repeatedly risk their lives each winter to carry mail to those cut off from the mainland.

Dr. Fred Metcalf of Franklin was a caller in the city Saturday.

HARD TIMES UNKNOWN IN UNION COUNTY.

ANNA, Ill.—Hard times are unknown to Union county, according to Walter Mangold, president of the Anna Business Men's League. He ascribes this condition to the richness of the soil hereabouts.

"The Mississippi river bottom in the west of the county produced a $3,000,000 grain crop last year," says Mr. Mangold. "The county vegetable crop amounted to $1,500,000 in value. It is almost impossible for all crops to fail the same year."

"The prospects for a banner fruit crop this year," says F. A. Baerbaum, assistant farm agent and adviser to the fruit growers of the county, "could not be better at this stage, and barring killing frosts the orchards should produce more than ever before."

Vote For

Hugh Green for County Judge

Some Facts About Hugh Green

He is 35 years of age and a native of Illinois.

He is a self-made man and has always worked his own way in the world, gaining an education by his own efforts.

In High School in 1905, he stood at the head of his class. In College in 1908, he again stood at the head of his class. In Law School in 1910, for the third time, he stood at the head of the class of 114. In College he also won high honors as a debater and in Law School he twice won the very highest individual debating honors in the whole school.

He has had ten years of experience as a lawyer in Jacksonville and has practiced extensively in the County Court. He has steadily risen to a high rank in his profession.

As a citizen he has proven himself to be very public spirited, always contributing of his time, means and energy to causes of the public interest. He has been an especial friend to disabled soldiers and their families, having, within the past three years, directly assisted soldiers and their families in approximately 700 instances.

He is making the race strictly on his own merits and record as a student, lawyer and citizen, and is not obligated to anyone in any manner whatsoever. If nominated and elected, he will make a splendid record as County Judge.

He is a Candidate of the People, For the People;
